Relief Workers Are Handicapped by Snow and by Bitter Cold of New England.

SOLDIERS GIVING AID TO HOMELESS

Witnesses Tell of Seeing "House of Light" Float Down Stream and Then Disappear.

BY BOYD D. LEWIS.

Boston, November 7.—(United News.)—Fire and disease added hazards to those of snow, sleet and cold in the wake of the New England flood tonight.

With thousands of basement furnaces flooded and refugees depending on improvised stoves and wood fires for warmth, military men and volunteers on duty in the stricken areas were taking precautions against fires.

Relief workers, handicapped by snow and bitter cold, already have been called in their efforts by bad fires in two Vermont towns.

Fires Hamper Relief.
A three-story wooden building on the Ludlow river front was damaged. Several residences at Cambridge were reported destroyed by fire this morning.

Disease was being fought by Red Cross and government officials. Orders were given in most communities that everyone be vaccinated as a precaution against typhoid.

In several localities inaccessible to train or motor, airplanes carried the anti-typhoid serum.

Although only 74 bodies had been identified tonight estimates of the total

Russian Baron Loses Bride And Fortune

Supreme Court Justice Scores Husband in Annuling Ceremony.

New York, November 7.—(United News.)—Baron George Tormow, who came out of the Russian a jump ahead of a soviet bayonet and later deserted Paris and a broken-hearted mistress at the same time, had his crowning stroke of misfortune today in an annulment decree from his heires bride.

In addition a supreme court justice was anything but polite in summing up the offenses Tormow had committed in marrying young Florence Clendenin, daughter of the vice president of the American Smelting and Refining Co.

It was a loveless wedding on the home's part, said the court. One in which he deliberately traded his title for the riches he thought the girl would bring him.

On top of that Baron Tormow was marrying a bond he posted last April 8 to guarantee that he would be available for deportation in case the authorities want him.

Tormow rushed Miss Clendenin to the altar of the Little Church Around the Corner last December. He took her to a hotel room, but his wedding bliss was short-lived.

It was a stormy Joseph Clendenin who rushed into the room, snatched his daughter away and told the court he could go back to Russia or any other place, far as he cared, but could not take his daughter with him.

The baron allegedly lost Miss Clendenin to believe he had an income of $18,000 a year. Here is what the court said:

"The defendant was without any funds whatsoever, and in order to carry out his plans to marry the plaintiff, he procured a loan of $100 and from the proceeds secured a wedding ring for less than $4, paid a long due board bill at the Alton House and procured a change of clothing in which to be married."

WIDEN THE MONEY MARGIN

Success and happiness, after all, depend upon relief from worry. Worry, in its turn, is largely determined by the width of the margin between income and outgo.

That margin may be widened either by increasing income or decreasing outgo. Either way is equally effective.

You will find your outgo materially decreased, without any deterioration in living style, if you study Constitution advertising columns regularly. The better values given by advertising retailers over non-advertisers is one of the reasons why

Fulton Grand Jury Indicts Trollering In Death of Negro

Tenant of "Death Farm,"
On Which Carruthers'
Body Was Found, Faces
Murder Charge.

POLICE PRESS HUNT FOR MORE BODIES

Coroner To Hold Inquest
Over Slain Man Today;
Witnesses Sought by County Still Missing.

Thomas H. Trollering, arrested recently in connection with Fulton county's "murder farm" probe, was indicted Monday afternoon by the Fulton grand jury on a charge of murder growing out of the killing of Owen Carruthers, negro, whose body was unearthed last Friday in a shallow grave in a cornfield near Simpson "murder farm" investigation Monday was the release of the negro, Will Burks, who has been held in the Tower since discovery of the body. His release under $100 bond was ordered by Assistant Solicitor Hudson, who will retain him as an important state witness in the prosecution of Trollering.

One count in the indictment charges Trollering killed the negro by striking him on the head with a hammer. Another count asserts that Millard Allen fired a shot into the body of the negro and that Trollering aided and abetted him. Allen was killed by Trollering in a cornfield near Simpson "murder farm" investigation Monday was the release of the negro, Will Burks, who has been held in the Tower since discovery of the body. His release under $100 bond was ordered by Assistant Solicitor Hudson, who will retain him as an important state witness in the prosecution of Trollering.

Acting on information that bodies of three additional negroes have been buried on the murder farm, county police and Assistant Solicitor John Hudson spent several hours late Monday afternoon probing the soil of the Simpson road place with steel rods. Up until an early hour Monday night no additional bodies had been discovered and the investigators were still searching about a location said to have been described as "a grave within 30 feet of a stump near the creek."

Inquest Set Today.

A coroner's inquest will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon over the body of the negro, Carruthers, and Len S. Guilbeau, attorney for Trollering, told The Constitution Monday night he had asked Coroner Paul Donohoe to summon as witnesses for cross-examination by him all parties whose names appear as witnesses on the back of the indictment who he is charging murder against Trollering.

While the grand jury was in session Monday, agents of the solicitor's office and county police sought to locate a group of witnesses in the case who have been missing for several days. One of the witnesses sought is Miss Nina Everett, a young woman who was with Trollering at the time he fired the fatal shot at Allen.

The indictment returned Monday against Trollering lays the blame for the death of the negro, Carruthers, directly at his door. It is asserted in one count that Trollering himself killed the negro by beating him to death with a hammer. In the other count it is charged that Allen shot the negro and that Trollering aided and abetted him in the deed.

KEHELEY INDICTED ON SHOOTING COUNT.

The Fulton county grand jury Monday returned an indictment against E. P. Keholey, Marietta street restaurant proprietor, charging him with assault with intent to murder in connection with the shooting of Leon Leister, 13-year-old boy. The shooting occurred on Halloween night. Keholey said he was shooting at a man with whom he had been quarreling when the boy passed in front of the restaurant and received the bullet in his head.

The lad is in the hospital in a critical condition.

Paul E. Davis, 55, Power
Company Employee,
Loses Balance and
Crashes to Floor.

Paul E. Davis, 55, of 325 Lakewood avenue, a carpenter employed by the Georgia Power company at its Fulton county plant on Virginia avenue, was almost instantly killed about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon when he fell from the top of a car on which he was working. Rushed to Davis-Fischer hospital, he was pronounced dead upon his arrival there, but doctors worked over him for some time in an effort to revive him.

According to G. H. Strickland, Davis' brother-in-law, who was working on the other end of the car and the first to reach him, Davis evidently lost his balance and fell to the concrete floor. The two men had been repairing one of the company cars at the time of the accident. Davis' death was attributed to a fractured skull and brain concussion, caused when his head hit the concrete floor. He had been connected with the company for nearly 10 years.

Davis is survived by his widow, who was visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Reid, of Louisville, Ky., who recently gave birth to twins; four other daughters, Mrs. Avery Patterson, Mrs. Lewis Mayberg, and Misses Audrey and Marion Davis; two sons, Roy Davis, of Chicago, and Paul Davis; two sisters, Mrs. C. H. Strickland and Mrs. H. A. Smith, of Forest Park, Ga., and a brother, Frank Davis.

The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of Ed Bond and Condon company, pending funeral arrangements, which have not been completed.

SLAYING OF MAN IS LAID TO GUEST IN SOPERTON CASE

Late Caller Shot by Frank
Miller, Woman at Whose Home Tragedy Occurred
Tells Coroner.

Soperton, Ga., November 7.—(AP)—Testimony to the effect that Frank Miller, a house guest, fired the shot that killed Clayton Newsome, 25, at the home of Mrs. Emma Coates, 50, six miles from here early Sunday morning, was given at the coroner's probe here today of the slaying. Mrs. Coates and her daughter both swore at the preliminary hearing that Miller, a friend of the family and a house guest for the night, fired the fatal shot.

Mrs. Coates, together with her four daughters, Mrs. Eva Mae Allen, 22; Anna, 18; Josephine, 17; Louise, 14, and Tom Horton and Frank Miller, are held in jail as a result of the slaying. Miller is confined in the Montgomery county jail at Mount Vernon and the women with Horton are held as material witnesses against Miller.

The slain man was a member of one of the most prominent families in Treutlen county. His father, M. H. Newsome, is an extensive naval stores operator in this section.

At a preliminary investigation held today, Mrs. Coates testified that Newsome was killed by Miller early Sunday morning as he was about to enter her home to see one of her daughters. The woman said that Newsome drove up to the house, which is located on a farm near one of the Newsome turpentine stills and called for her daughter, Allen.

He knocked at the door and was told to come back later in the day. He insisted on speaking to the girl and as the door opened he started to step into the house when the fatal shot was fired. He fell backwards and was dead when his friends picked him up and placed him in an automobile. Friends who were with Newsome in the automobile when he drove up to the house corroborated the woman's statement.

When first taken into custody, Mrs. Coates said that she did not know when she was placed in jail she broke down and confessed that it was Miller who fired the shot. He drove up to the house at first took the blame for the shooting because she feared bodily harm, but now that she was in jail she was unafraid and she then gave her story.

Miller denied any connection with the slaying and says he left the Coates home early Saturday night and did not know anything about the slaying until he was arrested by the Treutlen officers.

The coroner's inquest of the slaying of Newsome has been postponed until a further investigation has been made by Solicitor General M. S. Boyer, of the Oconee circuit. It was stated today.

Solicitor Boyer arrived here today.

Congressman Rainey To Demand Investigation
To Learn Who Is Paying Witnesses' Expenses.

TWO GOVERNORS CALL FOR REPEAL

Heads of National Associations and Local Clubs
Ask Repeal of Auto Sales
Levy.

Washington, November 7.—(AP)—A promised investigation of the expense accounts of tomorrow's witnesses and rough handling of the treasury's plan to continue to collect a tax from the thousands of persons who buy new automobiles enlivened today's tax hearings by the house ways and means committee.

While Governor Green, of Michigan, was advocating repeal of the estate or inheritance tax, Representative Rainey, democrat, Illinois, interrupted to ask if he knew anything about a lobby seeking such action.

The governor said he did not, and added:

"I paid my own expenses to Washington."

"I'm glad of that," snapped Rainey. "There's going to be an investigation of who's supporting that lobby."

"I'm here at my own expense," reiterated the governor.

"It's an expensive lobby I know," continued Rainey. "I propose to ask that question of all witnesses appearing on the estate tax."

The committee tomorrow will hear a group of witnesses on the inheritance tax, including members here attending a three-day session of the National Council of State Legislatures, which seeks, among other things, repeal of this levy.

Governor Sorlie, of North Dakota, spoke briefly at the opening session of the council today, favoring repeal of the inheritance tax. He said it was no longer a war measure, but was a regulatory law.

Rainey to Ask Probe.
Representative Rainey declared after today's session that the ways and means committee that he would introduce a resolution to ascertain who was paying the expenses of the estate tax witnesses, if some republican member of congress did not do so.

Rainey's reference to the estate tax levy momentarily interrupted a running fire of criticisms by representatives of automobile associations of the treasury's proposal to retain the 3 per cent sales tax on automobiles.

Heads of national associations were supported in their argument by representatives from local clubs, upwards of a dozen witnesses declaring the levy should be repealed.

The group unanimously held that the tax, an inheritance from the war, had become a peace-time tax structure and disagreed with Secretary Mellon that the levy was necessary to a well-balanced tax system.

Letter From Edsel Ford.

George M. Graham, Toledo, Ohio, said that the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, which he represented, in urging repeal of the levy, spoke for every automobile producer in the country except the Ford company. He presented a letter signed by Edsel Ford, which in part, said:

"It seems to us that the continuance of the federal excise tax upon automobiles represents discriminatory taxation against an industry which today forms an essential part of the nation's necessary transportation facilities."

Graham declared producers would reduce the cost of automobiles by the amount of the tax, and argued that the treasury's classification of an automobile as a semi-luxury also might be applied to both taxis which, like the automobile, was popular on the week-end.

BRYAN'S DAUGHTER IN CONGRESS RACE

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen
Announces Candidacy for Seat Now Held by Congressman Sears.

Miami, Fla., November 7.—(AP)—The Miami Herald tomorrow will publish a letter in which Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, announces her candidacy for congress from this district.

The announcement was mailed November 2 from Mason, Va., where the daughter of the commoner delivered a lecture.

Representative W. J. Sears, incumbent, generally is expected to make the race again. He defeated Mrs. Owen last year by a small margin.

The announcement follows:

"Believing that Florida's greatest period of development is yet to come and feeling that I understand the state's problems and can best aid in their solution as a member of the national house of representatives, I announce my candidacy for nomination to congress from the fourth Florida district, subject to the June primary."

Several weeks ago Mrs. Owen declined to comment on reports that she would make the race, saying "I will have an announcement to make soon."

VOTERS IN TWENTY STATES TO MARCH TO POLLS TODAY

Three Representatives,
Two Governors, Several
Legislatures and City
Heads To Be Elected.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Today's off-year elections call for show-downs at the polls in less than a score of states, with interest centered chiefly in the state and local issues.

No United States senators will be chosen, although three vacancies in the house of representatives are to be filled.

Two states—Kentucky and Mississippi—will elect governors.

In two others—New York and New Mexico—voters will pass on constitutional amendments, and by referendum in Ohio and New Jersey on enactments of the legislatures. New legislatures will be selected in New Jersey, Virginia and Kentucky.

Bitter City Contests.

In less than a dozen states, there will be elections of county, municipal and other local officials. Among the cities having bitterly contested mayoralty fights are Philadelphia, Detroit, San Francisco and Louisville.

The vacancies in the house of representatives were caused by the deaths of Representatives Magee, of the thirty-fifth New York district, and Stephens, of the second Ohio, and by the resignation of Representative Hazlett, of the first Pennsylvania, all republicans.

The republican candidate for congress in the first Pennsylvania is James M. Beck, former solicitor general of the United States. He has the support of Senator-elect Vare, whose leadership also is challenged in the Philadelphia mayoralty contest.

In Kentucky, however, J. C. W. Beckham, twice governor and once United States senator as the democratic gubernatorial nominee, has a fight on his hands. His republican opponent is Judge Flen D. Sampson, of the court of appeals, the state's highest tribunal, the horse racing question entering the campaign. Beckham advocates repeal of the pari-mutuel betting law.

Among the constitution amendments to be passed today by New York is one providing for four-year terms for governors and other elective state officials instead of the present two-year terms. Beckham is opposing the measure.

In New Mexico there also is a proposal to increase the terms of state officials.

OIL TRIAL JUROR DEMANDS HEARING

Burns Declares That U.
S. Agent Also Had Been
Shadowing Members of
Sinclair Jury.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, November 7.—(United News.)—The Teapot Dome jury tampering charges now being investigated by a grand jury may be brought into court sooner than expected, because of a demand by Edward J. Kidwell, the juror accused of talking too much, that he be given a chance in open court to deny the affidavits against him which caused a mistrial to be declared last week.

Kidwell also asked that the men who made the affidavits against him, J. Ray Akers, street car conductor, and Donald K. King, newspaper reporter, be cited for contempt.

Kidwell denied that he had said Sinclair was a democratic fellow with lots of money and that he expected soon to be riding around in a car "a block long."

Another sensational turn was precipitated by William J. Burns, who disclosed affidavits intimating that the government had been shadowing one of the jurors.

Trained Auto.

One of the Burns detectives trailed an automobile whose occupant was said to have talked with Norman L. Glasscock, one of the jurors, at Potomac flying field. A second affidavit identified the car as belonging to H. R. Lamb, a special assistant to the attorney general who has been

Millicent Rogers Weds Poor Young Argentine

POPE'S DISPENSATION AIDS COUPLE

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, November 7.—Millicent Rogers Salm, Standard Oil heiress, and Arturo Peralta Ramos, handsome but poor young Argentine blue-blood, were hurriedly married at 5 o'clock this afternoon at Southampton, L. I.

The young couple were filled with anxiety earlier in the day, fearing that a special dispensation from the pope would not arrive in time. The dispensation was necessary because Millicent was divorced from Count Salm.

As soon as Father Kelly received word from Rome granting the papal permission the couple presented themselves before him.

There were many and varied reports of the Rogers largesse after the nuptials. It was declared that Colonel Rogers had set up a trust fund of $500,000 for the newlyweds and that in turn Ramos signed papers waiving any future claim to the Rogers wealth. It was reported also that he had made a wedding gift of $500,000 outright to the couple. Efforts to ascertain the truth of these reports found Millicent's father unwilling either to affirm or deny them.

It seems the fates decreed that Millicent must wed in a rush. Her marriage to Count Ludwig Salm von Hoegenstraten was a hurried one. Her separation took more time.

Shortly after the ceremony, Colonel and Mrs. Rogers motored to the home of the bride's grandfather.

While the illness of Benjamin, known as the peacekeeper of the Rogers family, may have been serious enough to alter Millicent's nuptial plans, it had no apparent effect on the spirits of the family. The front hallway of The Beach house was banked with flowers. Millicent and her husband sent word out to news-

FUNERAL OF LEE IS SET FOR TODAY

Congressman From
Seventh District for More
Than 20 Years Passes at Chickamauga Home.

Chickamauga, Ga., November 7.—(AP)

Funeral services for former Congressman Gordon Lee, 68, veteran representative of the seventh district, who died at his home here early today, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence with Rev. H. G. Cherry, pastor of the Elizabeth Lee Methodist church here officiating. Interment will be in the Chickamauga cemetery.

Mr. Lee had been ill with heart trouble for several years and did not offer for reelection last year, voluntarily ending a congressional career of more than 20 years.

Lee, a democrat, was born on a farm near Ringgold, Catoosa county, Georgia. He received his primary education in the county schools and was graduated from Emory college.

Later he took up farming.

Becoming interested in politics, Lee was elected and served as a member of the house of representatives of the state legislature in 1894 and 1895, and in the senate in 1902, 1903 and 1904. He was appointed by Governor Atkinson as a member of the state memorial board. He also was a member of the National Forest Restoration commission, created in 1911, and a member of the joint committee on federal aid in the construction of post roads.

Mr. Lee served from the 59th to 68th congresses, inclusive. He district was composed of the following 13 counties: Bartow, Catoosa, Chattooga, Cobb, Dade, Floyd, Gordon, Haralson, Jones, Lumpkin, Wilkes, and Wilcox.

Ruth's Husband and Aunt WOMACK BELIEVES WIFE'S THROUGH FLYING To Greet Her in Gotham

New York, November 7.—(AP)—Ruth Elder's husband, Lyle Womack, arrived today from Panama to greet his wife and witness New York's reception for her next flight. With him was Mrs. Susan Odum, the girl filer's aunt.

"I am here to meet Mrs. Womack, not Ruth Elder," Womack declared, adding that he had "been through 17 hellish while Ruth did the thing she had wanted to do ever since Lindbergh made his flight."

"I don't think she'll try flying again," he said. "When Ruth knows what I've been through—what it means for a man to gamble his wife against the weather."

Mrs. Odum, however, approved neither of her niece's exploit nor of Womack's part in it. "Fiddlersicks," she exploded, "he ought to have talked sooner if he wanted to stop her from making the flight. Some men at 25 are not yet over their childhood. They're all rattle-brained."

Womack said his wife's mother would come here from Amistad, Ala., for her daughter's return. Afterward, he said, he hopes to take his wife back to Panama, where he intends to go into business. He spent his youth on the isthmus, he explained, where his father is a conductor on the Panama railroad. It was there that he met his wife at the home of her aunt. Later they met again at Lakeland, Fla., and were married.

When he left Lakeland in September Womack said he understood that his wife had abandoned her plans for a trans-Atlantic flight. When he received word of her takeoff he was "plunged into torment," he said, and thereafter spent all the time of the flight in cable offices awaiting reports from the American Girl.

"I don't want to stand in the way of any of her plans," Womack said, "but Ruth is an air high housekeeper and I want her back in Panama." He has a suitcase filled with cable messages from his wife, he said.

TRACK WORK LET; POWER COMPANY'S SHARE APPROVED

Contract With Railroads
Also Passes in Busy Session;
Way Cleared for Immediate Operations.

PREACHER NAMED FOR CITY HALL

Palmer-Spivey Given Contract
for $479,500 School
Projects on Five New Units.

Immediate start on a construction program in Atlanta involving expenditure of $8,000,000 in bonds, authorized in 1926 by voters, appeared Monday night following action of city council Monday afternoon in award of contracts approximating $700,000 and other moves designed to clear the way for other projects.

Features of the council session Monday afternoon were:

1. Adoption of a contract between the city and railroads, over which the Mayor and Central avenue viaducts still be constructed.

2. Amendment and acceptance, subject to reconsideration, of the aldermanic bond and approval by Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power company, of a proposal by which the company would contribute $400,000 towards erection of the bridges.

3. Award of the contract for depression of the railroad tracks to the Brooks-Calloway company, of Atlanta, for $208,000.

4. Selection of G. Lloyd Preacher, architect for construction of $2,000,000 worth of school projects from the bond funds; as architect on the new $1,000,000 city hall.

5. Award of the general contract for erection of the first five school projects to the Palmer-Spivey company, of Augusta, for $479,500. The projects are an addition to the Hoke Smith Junior High school and new schools for Capitol View, Stanton, Davis and Ormewood. Contracts for electrical, plumbing and heating in the new projects were not considered.

The contract between the railroads, which was a condition precedent to beginning any of the viaduct program, was accepted without opposition.

Arkwright Speaks.

Following an address in which Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power company, outlined the position of the company regarding the contribution of the company to the viaducts, members of city council amended the proposal brought forward by members of the bridge committee so that council could abrogate the contract and place jitneys or any other competition in the traction field by repayment of $50,000 of the $400,000.

VALDOSTA GETS FISH HATCHERY

Washington, November 7.—(AP)—The site of Grassy lake, near Valdosta, Ga., was definitely selected today by Commissioner O'Malley, of the bureau of fisheries, for the location of the fish hatchery recently authorized for Georgia.

An appropriation of $35,000 was secured for this hatchery last session by Senator Harris, of Georgia. Commissioner O'Malley plans to establish a hatchery of about 225 acres at Grassy lake, which he says will be one of the largest pond stations in the United States, and will be "highly productive and a great help to the inland fisheries of the south."

Avoid Poorly Balanced Breakfasts

Start the day with Quaker Oats—food that "stands by" you.

If you feel tired, hungry, "fidgety," hours before lunch, don't jump to the conclusion of poor health. Thousands have unenergetic mornings because they start the day with wrong breakfasts.

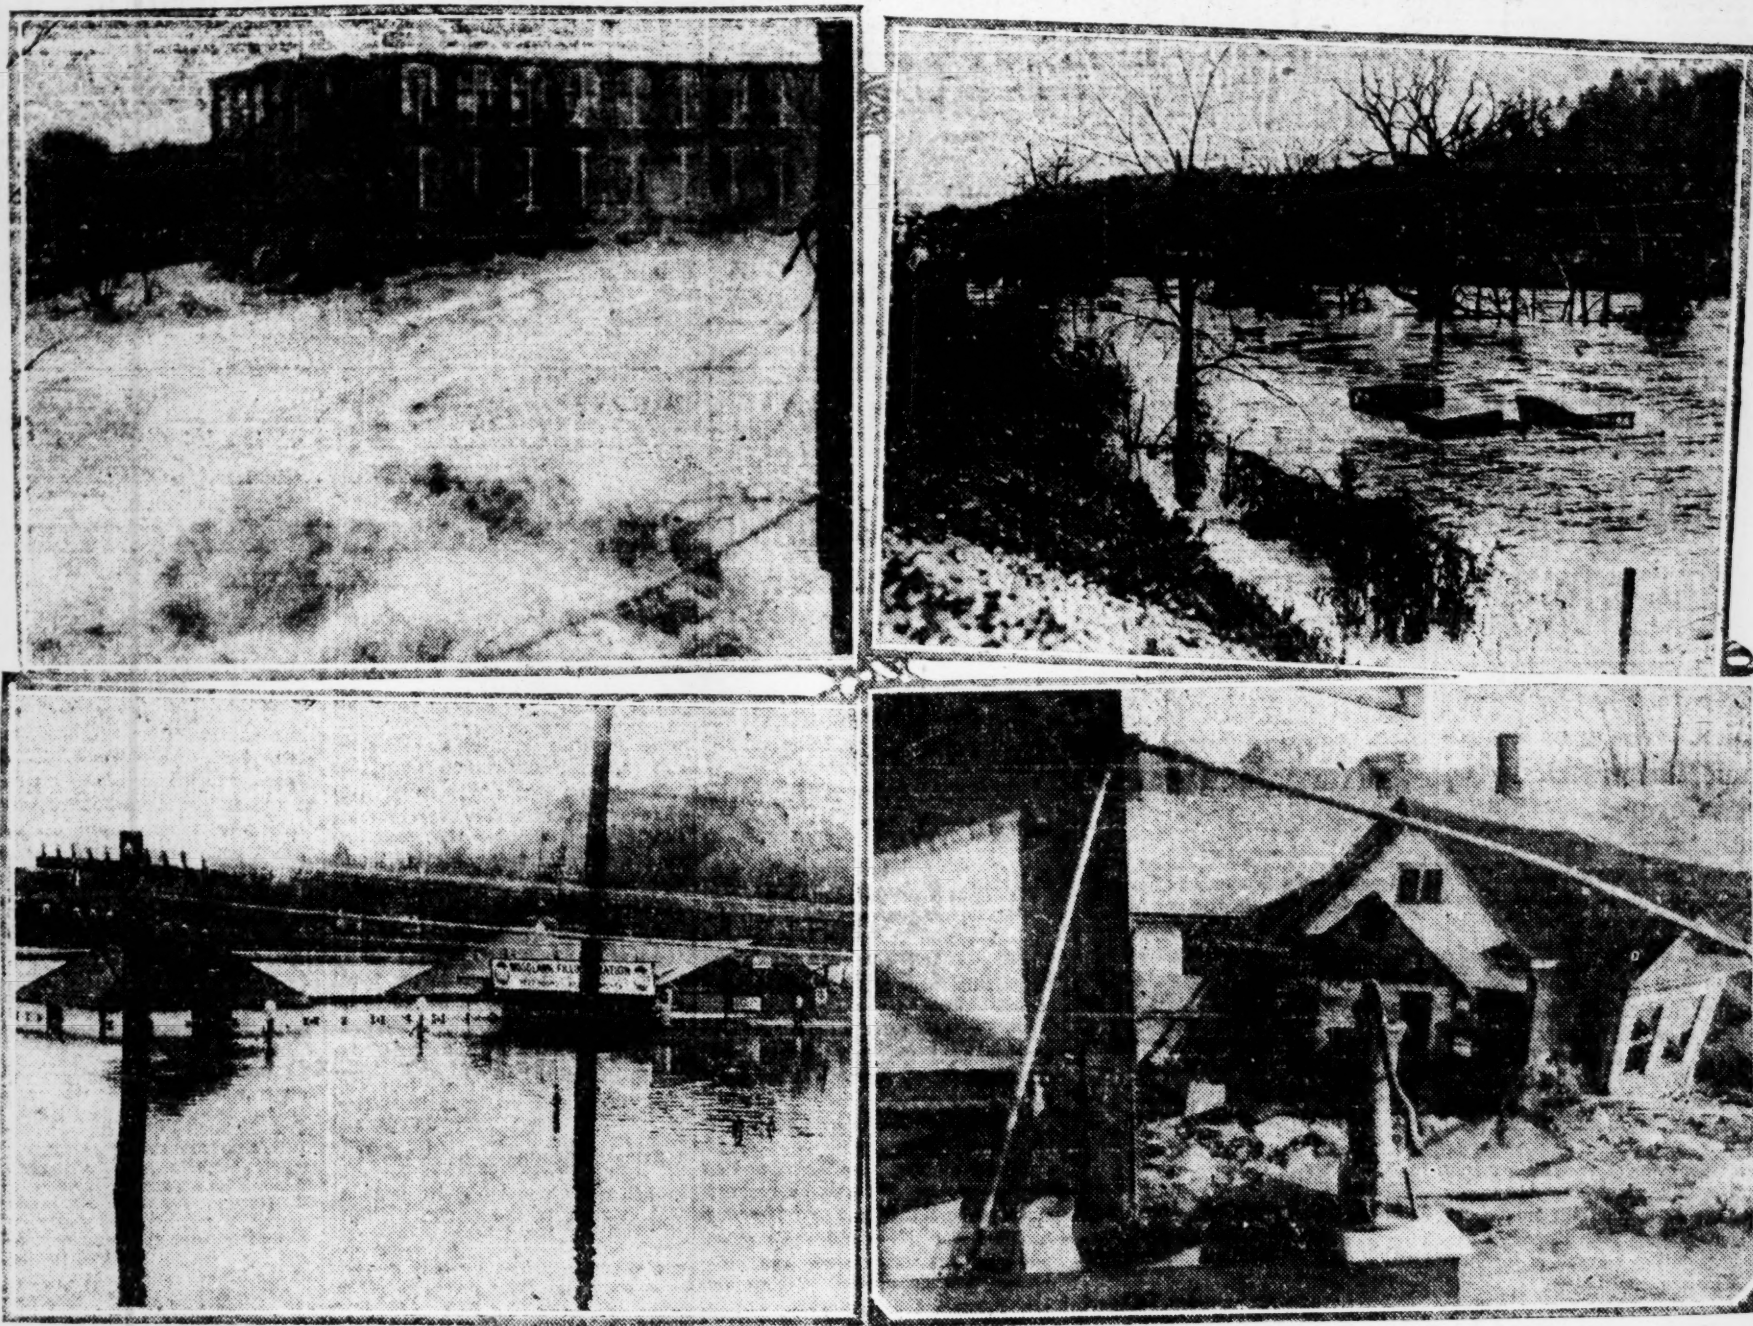

To feel right, you must have a well-balanced, complete breakfast ration. At most other meals—lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 65% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers you. Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 2 1/2 to 5 minutes, and Quaker Oats.

FIRE AND DISEASE HAMPER RELIEF

dead ranged from 125 to 150. Property damage remained at $100,000,000.

General's Aerial Survey. General Preston Brown, commander of the first corps area, returned to Boston late today by airplane from an aerial survey of the devastated sections.

"The problem," General Brown said, "is largely an administrative one. However, I have conferred with Red Cross and local relief officers and I believe they are well organized and have a definite plan."

"The amount of damage cannot be estimated accurately at this time but it is sure to run into many millions."

"Troops are doing everything in their power to help the homeless and to aid in the restoring of order."

Denies Looting Reports.

General Brown contradicted reports that there had been looting in some of the flooded sections.

"One of the most impressive things I encountered," he said, "was the spirit these people have shown. There has been no disorder. The spirit of the people has been fine and a great credit to their character."

Roads into Montpelier, General Brown said, were virtually impassable and a serious problem presented itself in getting food into this hard-hit city.

At present supplies were being brought to Montpelier and St. Johnsbury by boat from Port Kent, N. Y.

One of the most important reasons for immediate restoration of roads and railroads, General Brown believed, was that farmers would be enabled to spend the winter on their farms.

At present, he said, the possibility of a general exodus from the country to the city looms in Vermont and New Hampshire.

Reports Encouraging. Reports from western Massachusetts and Connecticut continued tonight to be encouraging. The Connecticut river at Springfield had gone down several feet during the day and at Hartford, Conn., it had gone down three feet.

A large section of East Hartford was still under water, however. Water stood several feet deep on Brainard field at Hartford and it was feared some of the airplanes might have sustained severe damage.

In metropolitan Boston, authorities were wrestling with the problem of a severe milk shortage. Hundreds of cattle which had supplied Boston's milk perished in the flood.

TRAIN PASSENGERS STRANDED BY FLOOD.

Concord, N. H., November 7.—(AP) Aerial observations of Randolph, Vt., today disclosed that a passenger train isolated by the rushing waters three days ago still was surrounded by water and that the passengers had remained aboard. The aviators saw a man standing in the door of the baggage car, while the forms of the passengers could be seen in the coaches. It was assumed by the aviators that the people had not left the train because of the shortage of housing accommodations in the near-by village.

NUMBER OF DEAD IN CANADA EIGHT.

Montreal, Que., November 7.—(AP) The number of dead from the floods which swept the eastern townships of Quebec and Western New Brunswick was increased to eight tonight with the finding of the body of Alex A. McIver, aged resident of Milan, Quebec. The body was discovered near Black Lake, after the flood waters had subsided.

With almost complete restoration of telegraph and telephone communication throughout the eastern townships and with rivers, again within normal bounds, a more complete check up of the damage is being made. Reports from outlying districts have added to

MAGRUDER PLACED ON WAITING LIST

Washington, November 7.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, relieved Saturday of his command of the Philadelphia navy yard as a result of his utterances since publication of charges that the navy was over-organized and extravagantly operated, was placed in the status of "waiting orders" today by Secretary Wilbur "until such time as the department is prepared to give him a permanent assignment to duty."

While Secretary Wilbur declined to amplify this statement, it was understood that Admiral Magruder would be allowed to remain in this status until his own conduct had decided the future course of the navy department.

It is said to be the secretary's desire to grant Admiral Magruder liberty of action to prepare any plan he might have for effecting economies and also to have him available for appearance before congress if that body wishes to call him.

The order of the secretary allows Admiral Magruder complete freedom of action so far as his movements are concerned as long as he remains in the United States. Should he desire to leave the country it would be necessary to obtain the permission of the secretary.

Although Wilbur would not say whether his action was disciplinary, it was so regarded by many at the navy department. Admiral Magruder will continue to draw his full pay of $8,000 a year and $1,700 in allowances.

Following the conference with Secretary Wilbur Admiral Magruder would make no statement other than that he had been placed in the category of some 10 or 15 other navy officers to await assignments.

HOUSE OF LIGHT GOES DOWN RIVER.

Waterbury, Vt., November 7.—(AP)—Flood survivors along the Winoski valley were still talking today of the "House of Light" that passed down the river when the flood was at its crest.

"It was last Thursday night," Lloyd Squire, a local newspaperman told the Associated Press. "We had our hands pretty full right at the moment saving our own lives and as many others as we could, but that was a sight to make anyone look."

"Down stream it came in the darkness, a two-story and attic house, twinkling and bowing in the rush of water, and every window lighted as if a family was about its ordinary living inside."

"It went by very quickly and though some said they could distinguish figures moving past windows, nobody could tell for sure whether the house was occupied during that wild ride or not. But it was very likely was. It must have been a very sudden wrench that had pulled the house into the river without even extinguishing the lamps, and if it had been a house from which the occupants had gone before the flood came the lamps would have been turned out."

"We never heard what happened to it, but it is easy to guess. There'll be pieces of it now all the way from below here to Burlington and out into Lake Champlain, along with the wreckage of a hundred other homes."

DIVORCE GRANTED MRS. WALTER WARD

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Reno, November 7.—The divorce of Walter S. Ward by Mrs. Beryl Curtis Ward was granted out in the courts here today. In his wife's complaint, filed on last September 13, the charges against Ward were infidelity, failure to provide and desertion.

No correspondent was named in the charge against the son of George S. Ward, multimillionaire. The desertion, Mrs. Ward cited, dated May 1925. It was in that month that the automobile of Walter S. Ward, acquired in 1923 for the slaying of Clarence Peters in Westchester county, New York, on May 16, 1922, was found abandoned on a lonely road near Trenton, N. J. He later was discovered in Havana, Cuba, with his father.

Mineral-Tone "Like Magic" Says Atlanta Motorman

Ulcerated Stomach Caused 5 Years Untold Agony—$500 in Medicines, Operation—All Failed.

After 5 Bottles Mineral-Tone—Pain Gone, Gained 15 Pounds—Declares "It Has Done for Me What Other Medicines Failed to Do."

In relating his remarkable experience with Mineral-Tone, Mr. M. Williams, of 65 Richardson St., S. W., Atlanta—a motorman for the Georgia Power Co.—says:

"My case was one of the worst, if not the worst, that Mineral-Tone ever tackled. Before I began the Mineral-Tone treatment, I suffered untold agony from ulcerated stomach. In 5 years I spent not less than $500 for medicines. I went to specialists, took various treatments and had to undergo an operation—but instead of getting better I continued to grow worse. My stomach got so bad I could not eat one bite of solid food, and for months lived on milk and crackers."

"I was about discouraged when some of my friends told me about Mineral-Tone. To date I have used 5 bottles and don't hesitate to say it has proved the best medicine I have ever used. I have gained 15 pounds and am eating anything I want. My stomach is like new, never have a pain—all that gas and burning left me like magic when I began Mineral-Tone. It has done for me what other medicines failed to do."

In beginning the Mineral-Tone treatment, it is well first to cleanse the system out thoroughly with M-Lax, the tonic laxative. For sale at all druggists.

Central of Georgia Discusses Operation of Federal Law Governing Railroad Rates

The law which governs the making of railway rates contains two major requirements. One is that the management of the railroads must be honest, efficient and economical. The other is that rates must be made so that the railroads as a whole will be able to earn a fair return upon the value of their property. This law has now been in existence more than seven years.

The honesty of railway management throughout these seven years has been unquestioned. Its efficiency has been demonstrated by a great improvement in service; railway transportation today is uniformly prompt and dependable. The economy of railway management has been proved by an actual increase in net earnings during a period of high prices, advancing taxes and declining rates.

The first requirement of the law has therefore been fully met in all particulars. Turn now to the second requirement.

In only one of the seven years has the return earned by the railroads as a whole come up to the mark set by the Interstate Commerce Commission as a fair return. That was in 1926. For the full seven years the railroads have lacked more than one and one quarter billion dollars of earning such a return. In view of this experience, everyone ought to know by now that no return is guaranteed to the railroads. If they fail to reach the return aimed at, there is no provision for making up the difference. Furthermore, the fact that the railroads have failed to earn this return in a period of heavy traffic means the shortage is certain to be even greater when business declines.

Honest, efficient and economical management of the railroads alone is not enough to gain the end for which this law was enacted, which is the maintenance of an adequate system of transportation. The second requirement of the law is of just as much force as the first, and failure on the part of our rate-regulating authorities to meet it has the effect of nullifying what the railroads have accomplished by meeting the first.

When this situation is fully realized by the public, there will undoubtedly be a marked public sentiment in favor of maintaining a level of rates that will accomplish the full intent of the law.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

President, Central of Georgia Railway.

I travel a great deal, and find that irregular hours together with constant change of food tend to constipate. For that reason, I always carry a bottle of Pluto with me. I don't believe there is another laxative on the market that gives such quick relief. Often I find it convenient to drink Pluto at soda fountains.

L. Lamberton

ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

U. S. Senator from New York and formerly Health Commissioner of the City of New York.

Dr. Copeland says: "Mineral waters of the right sort are preferable to many of the cathartic compounds on the market. Their power to overcome the immediate effects of constipation is unquestioned. They are soothing and healing to the tissues. Sugar coated pills are pleasant to take which may add to their danger. That is the reason they are coated with sugar. They are no less drastic and habit-forming because they appeal to the taste. Mineral waters pass through the system, doing nothing else but to flush and cleanse the intestinal tract."

CAN YOU IMAGINE Mother Nature Rolling a Sugar Coated Pill?

Nature doesn't do business that way. She is the great physician, and her remedies are sure, gentle and thorough. For constipation, she provides natural and speedy relief with Pluto Water, bottled at French Lick Springs.

Water is nature's great cleansing agent. Pluto Water, with its mineral content, literally "washes away" the accumulated waste. The action is pleasant and prompt, relief coming within from 30 minutes to 2 hours after drinking. There is no griping, no habit-forming tendency.

Read the opinion of a national health authority, given here, as to the danger in the use of drastic drugs in attempting to correct or cure constipation. The delicate tissues inside the body become seriously injured by contact with powerful chemicals and drugs. Play safe—take Pluto Water, recommended by physicians for nearly a generation.

Wedding on Auditorium Stage Added Attraction At Food Show Tonight

Demonstrations of Food and Its Preparation To Continue at Auditorium All Week.

Tonight at 8 o'clock a public wedding ceremony will be performed on the stage at the auditorium, where the seventh annual pure food show is being presented all this week. The exhibition is sponsored by the Atlanta Retail Food Dealers' association and the City Salesmen's association.

Who the principals in the added attraction for tonight are has not been announced, and will not be until the time of the ceremony, but it is certain that, whoever the couple may be, there will be large crowds present to witness the launching of the new craft on the matrimonial sea.

The show at the auditorium this year is, in effect, a concentrated drive to reduce the number of divorces in Georgia. Realizing that the surest method for securing happiness in the home is through appetizing and health-giving meals, the show has been designed expressly to bring the best and newest in food ideas to the attention of Atlanta housewives.

Scores of booths, attractively arranged, demonstrate the newest developments in food and its preparation, while daily cooking school classes are conducted on the stage by Mrs. J. H. Merritt, one of the city's most famous home cooks.

Special demonstrations in model kitchens are also being given each afternoon by the home economics classes from the local high schools, under the supervision of Miss Clara Lee Cone and other teachers. John T. Lee and his orchestra are furnishing music in daily concerts from 2:30 to 4:30 and from 7:30 to 9:30. Other entertainment and special attractions are provided for the entire week in beautiful plenitude.

At many of the booths samples of prepared foods and drinks are being given away each day.

Wednesday will be "Grocers' day";

Thursday, "Club Woman's day," and commercial pageant, with special prizes. Thursday night will be featured by a for the best displays.

The Georgia association has a special exhibit, urging the consumption of Georgia grown products, while the Atlanta Safety council has a special safety-first exhibit.

It is, in all, a fascinating show and should do much to improve the attractiveness of Atlanta home meals.

Veteran Sergeant Retires After 22 Years of Service

Colonel George F. Baltzell (left), commander of the Twenty-second infantry, Fort McPherson, congratulating Master Sergeant Fielden Huff, on his retirement after many years of active service in the army.

Orders granting the retirement of Master Sergeant Fielden Huff, of the twenty-second infantry, Fort McPherson, brought to an end Monday the army career of the soldier whose service covered a period of more than a quarter of a century carried him to all portions of the globe.

Congratulating Sergeant Huff in a general order to the regiment Monday, Colonel George F. Baltzell, commander of the twenty-second infantry, said: "The retirement of Sergeant Huff marks the close of a long and honorable career as a soldier of the United States. His record of service, loyalty and application to duty is an enviable one, to be emulated by all men who have the best interests of their country at heart. The congratulations of the regimental commander and of the entire command are tendered to Master Sergeant Huff upon the completion of his long service and cordial good wishes are extended to him for his future success and happiness in his well-earned retirement."

When first enlisted in the army, Sergeant Huff was assigned to the Philippine islands to participate in the Moro insurrection. Later, as a member of the ninth infantry, he was stationed at Tientsin, China, being sent from there to Alaska. In 1905 he was assigned to the twenty-second infantry, to remain with that unit until his retirement 22 years later. The veteran soldier received the highest non-commissioned rating of master sergeant after serving all other grades.

He was a member of the joint committee federal aid in the construction of post roads and served for 15 years on the agriculture committee of the house of representatives, part of this period as ranking democrat; he was promoted to the committee on appropriations, which is considered one of the most powerful committees of congress; he was a member of forest commission under the Weeks law, established first forest reservation in Georgia, which now includes something like 70,000 acres.

Mr. Lee was known as the "Working Congressman from Georgia," which title he earned and deserved by his prompt, courteous and efficient official conduct. No task was too large for his most earnest endeavor and no matter was too small for his kindest attention if coming within the scope of his official duties. His name is a household word throughout the seventh district, and as a further mark of esteem and appreciation, there is hardly a hamlet in his entire district but what contains a family having a son named in honor of the beloved congressman.

He was married to Miss Olive Berry, of Newnan, Ga., who died several years ago. After the death of his wife, Gordon Lee was never the same, and a decline in his health dates from that time.

Several years ago Mr. Lee divided $75,000 equally between the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian orphanages. He was never blessed with a child of his own, but from the depths of his great heart came this substantial response to the cry of need from the helpless little ones of others.

In memory of his wife, Mr. Lee donated the beautiful chimes now located in Newnan, Ga.

Other donations of Congressman Lee at Chickamauga include a lot of joining the Elizabeth Lee Methodist Memorial church here, which was named in honor of the memory of his mother, upon which a Sunday school annex is built. He also gave to the Ethel Harpist home at Cedartown a tract of land for expansion purposes. The home is a Methodist institution used in caring for orphans and destitute children in Polk county.

At a great personal sacrifice on his part, Gordon Lee devoted 24 of the best years of his life to the service of others, and more enduring than bronze or granite will be the memory of a life well spent. "He walked with kings and lost the common touch; his ears were attuned to the call of the needy and he, veritably, went about doing good."

Representative Reid declared that the "problem of flood control will not be solved by following any single theory or form of defensive works," and added:

"I believe that a combination of the best and most practical elements of various plans that have been suggested will be found worthy of incorporation in a valley-wide national plan."

The committee chairman expressed the view that the plan should include "stronger levees, wider apart in places and standardized on the main river and its principal tributaries, spillways, cut-offs, by-passes and overflow reservoirs."

A suggestion that money for flood control be obtained by using appropriations for prohibition enforcement was proposed by Anton J. Cernak, president of the Cook county, Illinois, board.

"If congress," he added, "will appropriate much to stop the flow of water in the Mississippi valley, as it has already appropriated to stop the flow of wine and beer in other parts of the United States, in five years the Mississippi valley will be adequately protected."

A plea for flood control to protect women and children from suffering, was made by Mrs. Bertha Bauer, of Chicago. "We want more action and less talk," she said.

John Parker's Appeal.

That the flood problem was one of national welfare, not only from an economic standpoint but to prevent suffering among hundreds of thousands of people was the declaration of a former Louisiana governor, John M. Parker, who directed that state's relief work last spring.

"It is uneconomic to have a recurrence of these floods," he asserted. He said it was erroneous to refer to the Mississippi delta as a reclamation project, adding that "these rich farm lands have been inhabited for the past 200 years."

"The waters that endanger the lower Mississippi valley states, especially Louisiana, come from the rivers up north," Parker continued. He described the sufferings and dangers of the flood of last spring, depicting in detail the rescue of the hundreds of inhabitants in Point Coupee parish, Louisiana, after the McCrea levee break.

Senator Percy's View.

Appearing as a witness former Senator Percy, of Mississippi, said that "the lower Mississippi valley only asks for one thing—that congress forever rid the section of the menace of future floods." He asserted that the south had come before congress for the past 50 years to seek aid and protection and despite repeated failures in the past, it hopes to gain relief of a permanent character.

"The 1927 flood stripped the valley clean," he said, "and wrenched the spirit out of its people. All that we had was swept down to the gulf." "The valley is bankrupt by the frequent floods and now cannot bear the whole burden."

"It will be a shameful thing if this rich nation does not help to eliminate this grave menace to the southland. But the national consciousness has been aroused to the problem. The work of flood control should be done at once—just as fast as congress can appropriate the money."

Loss of $1,000,000.

Oscar Johnson, of Memphis, Tenn., operator of the 100,000-acre plantation which was flooded by the Mounds Lancing, Mississippi levee break, declared that on that property alone a loss of $1,000,000 was sustained. He said only 25 bales of cotton were produced this year in comparison to nearly 150,000 bales last year.

Mayor Thompson occupied the witness chair only a short time.

He stressed the need of arousing the nation to the needs of controlling floods, directing from that subject only to describe the value of steamship paper men they would have nothing to say to them.

Colonel Rogers, usually stern and uncommunicative, fairly blazed on reporters.

He was happy; there was no doubt of that. And he smiled his way through a torrent of questions. The multimillionaire father who had sought so strenuously to bring to an end his daughter's romance with Count Salm seemed eagerly to seize upon the occasion as an opportunity to discard his usual cold exterior.

A Catholic, Millicent intend to become a Catholic, was one of the queries put to him.

"Well she married a Catholic and it's up to her."

The declaration seemed to be that it would be agreeable to the Rogers family if she did change to her husband's religion.

His formal announcement of the hasty wedding, the cause of its advancement to today, and the newly-weds' sailing plans, Colonel Rogers added:

"All festivities have been called off. I have even had the phone service discontinued. We do not wish to be disturbed."

Buenos Aires, November 7.—His friends here today described Arturo Ramos as a typical young blue-blood, fond of high living, who is undoubtedly financially embarrassed. He is a member of one of Argentina's patrician families, prominent politically, and enjoying the highest social prestige.

His family has intermarried with many prominent families of similar standing. Some branches of his family are reported as moderately wealthy, but Arturo's is considered to be at low ebb financially.

Too Great for States.

The two governors, Small, of Illinois, and Sorlie, of North Dakota, said that their states, although out of the flood region, were cognizant of the effects of last spring's disaster.

"The flood conditions are too great for any states to remedy alone," said Governor Small.

"It is not a sectional problem, and it is not a political problem, but it is a national affair. It is a national problem—flood control—one of the national welfare."

Various members of the committee concurred in this view, among them Representatives Knapp of Iowa, Freer of Wisconsin and Sears of Nebraska, all republicans, who said they favored the enactment by congress of an adequate program for flood control.

Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom, of Illinois, declared that the American Legion, whom he represented at the hearing, supported flood control by the federal government. He read a resolution adopted by the legion's Paris convention.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking a nip, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when a nip should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

MARINES GUARD NICARAGUA POLLS

Managua, Nicaragua, November 7.—(AP)—United States marines and national guard patrols kept watch over the municipal elections held throughout Sunday. Colonel Louis M. Gulick, commander of the Fifth brigade, U. S. Marine corps, said today that no disturbances were reported by the patrols, law and order prevailing throughout.

It will be several days before final results are announced, but the figures in some of the towns are interesting. In Managua the liberals scored heavily over the conservatives.

On the recorded vote up to this afternoon the liberals had 3,259, and the conservatives 1,616. In Granada the vote stood: Conservatives, 1,296; liberals, 854.

At Leon, a liberal stronghold, the liberal vote was 2,600, the conservative vote 5. The conservatives are ahead by a few votes at Masaya, but at Matagalpa the liberals were 4-to-1 in the majority.

An Open Letter to Atlanta Business Executives--

November 7, 1927.

Gentlemen:

The newspapers of any city closely parallel in their growth the growth of that city. Atlanta's newspapers have been growing consistently and increasing their scope of usefulness both to the reading public and to those who advertise in their columns.

Leader in this growth, we are happy to chronicle, has been THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, which today HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY DAILY NEWSPAPER IN ATLANTA!

Our pride in this fact is tempered by a determination to maintain in the future the same reader confidence we have always enjoyed; it is encouraging to be first in circulation but we count it even more important to continue first in reader confidence.

Cordially yours,

Clark Howell
Business Manager

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

LARGEST!

FOR the last four years THE CONSTITUTION has had the greatest home delivered circulation of any paper in Atlanta. For the last year it has had the largest total city circulation.

NOW THE CONSTITUTION has the largest total daily circulation of any Atlanta newspaper -- and of special importance to Atlanta advertisers--the largest circulation in the 75-mile trading area.

OLDEST!

Established in 1868, THE CONSTITUTION has long been the standard by which other Southern newspapers have been judged. Credit is due a progressive news and editorial policy for the dominant leadership in circulation which this paper today enjoys. Few papers in the South have augmented their staffs and services in recent years in a manner even comparable to THE CONSTITUTION.

Advertisers who appeal to the man and woman of stability--the home owner, the permanent resident of Atlanta--have always recognized the pre-eminence of THE CONSTITUTION as an advertising medium. Today they have the added satisfaction of knowing they are reaching more readers than they could through any other Atlanta newspaper!

ADVERTISERS---

This special note is for those who actually buy advertising space--on whose judgment the expenditure of thousands of dollars rests. May we suggest that you ask for--and see--the circulation statements of the three Atlanta newspapers. These figures may be obtained at the advertising office of any newspaper and--THEY TELL THE STORY!

SOVIET OBSERVES TENTH BIRTHDAY

Moscow, November 7.—(United News.)—A singing, shouting mob of a million men, women and children surged through the red-bannered streets of Moscow today in celebration of the tenth anniversary of Bolshevikism.

From the freezing Siberian steppes and the Ukraine, the shores of the Black sea and the fringe of the arctic circle they came to participate in the greatest Soviet demonstration since November 7, 1917, when the Bolsheviks captured Petrograd and overthrew the provisional government of Alexander Kerensky.

It was a characteristic Russian sight. All the theatres in the Russian flag for the dramatic were extended. Millions were seen from the train.

Your "Skinny" Body Makes Them Laugh

GAIN Pounds of weight with New YEAST and IRON

Pleasant to take—Quick results—or no money

Don't envy the popularity of the healthy, well-muscled men and women. You can get pounds of good flesh on your skin, weak body, building up your strength and clearing your complexion of pimples and blotches. You can have the same glowing vitality and attractive curves as others. If you will only give IRONIZED YEAST a chance to prove it.

How Yeast and Iron Make Weight and Strength

IRONIZED YEAST is two tonics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and which makes malt so beneficial.

This yeast is treated with iron taken from fresh vegetables—spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form iron is easily assimilated by the body making rich, red blood and toning up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is Ironized in this way is it most effective. For iron is needed to bring out the weight-building values of Yeast. By this formula IRONIZED YEAST gives you results in half the time required by yeast and iron taken separately.

Go today to your druggist and get a full size treatment of IRONIZED YEAST. It will pick you right up and add pounds of weight over those skinny places, making graceful curves. It clears out impurities from the blood, giving you a fresh, lovely smooth skin. Comes only in nice, tasty tablets, 50 to a bottle. Safe for everybody. ## 400 Executives Expected Here Today For Convention of Fertilizer Body

Prominent figures at the National Fertilizer association in session here. Left to right, J. C. Pridmore, of Atlanta, director southern division, soil improvement committee, who speaks today on "Factors Affecting Fertilizer Consumption in the South"; Charles J. Brand, of Washington, executive secretary and treasurer of the national association, who is in charge of arrangements for the convention; E. L. Robins, of Meridian, Miss., president of the National Fertilizer association, who makes the opening address today; and J. N. Harper, of Atlanta, co-director of agricultural and scientific bureau, N. V. Potash Export My., who speaks today on "Extension Program of the N. V. Potash Export My."

Estimating that no less than 400 executives of American fertilizer concerns would be on hand when the National Fertilizer association opens its third annual southern convention this morning at the Atlanta-Biltmore hotel, Charles J. Brand, of Washington, D. C., executive secretary and treasurer in charge of the gathering, pointed to the record attendance figure as an indication that the industry is now more than ever interested in the farmers' problems.

The principal topics to be discussed during the sessions on Tuesday and Wednesday will deal with problems confronting the farmer. Mr. Brand stated in an interview Monday, "The control of crop surpluses and the large crops from lowering the price of the product to the point where it is unprofitable for the farmer to market his crop, will be the large subject of the convention gathering, which will probably outnumber that of last year by more than 100. In this respect the fertilizer industry has learned that market conditions in that field vary directly with the prosperity of the farmer."

Last year and the present period illustrate clearly the direct relationship between farming and the fertilizer industry. With the surplus of last year forcing the price of cotton down to 11 cents, financial depression set in among the farmers with the result that they curtailed the use of fertilizer for this year's crops. The small crop which resulted this year served as an object lesson to the farmer in the increased productivity through the use of fertilizer. At the same time the farmers are commanding a high price for their crops which will enable them to purchase the full amount of fertilizer needed.

The same point was stressed by J. C. Pridmore, of Atlanta, in foreclosing at the preliminary meeting Monday morning of the soil improvement committee, that an increase of $250,000,000 to $275,000,000 in the purchase of cotton fertilizer would result from the high sale value of cotton.

Mr. Pridmore, who is director of the southern division staff of the soil improvement committee, which is carrying on about 75 per cent of the association's activities, stated that the business prosperity that would follow the increased purchasing power of the southern farmer would be reflected in the fertilizer industry as in other businesses. He urged the practice outlined in the slogan of fewer acres with greater profit, intensifying farming through the use of more fertilizer.

Another report heard by the committee at the preliminary meeting was presented by H. R. Smalley, of Washington, director of the northern division of the committee. Mr. Smalley discussed business features of the staff's activity and explained the proposed survey to obtain information from fertilizer consumers in 20 states that will shortly disclose the industry as "it is seen by others."

The annual conference will be opened at 10:30 o'clock this morning with the address of E. L. Robins, of Meridian, Miss., national president. Speaking of the subject of "Stabilized Agriculture—The Hope of Allied Industries," Dr. B. W. Kilgore, chairman of the board of trustees, American Cotton Growers exchange, Raleigh, N. C., is expected to present one of the feature talks of the session. In his address he will explain the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, which passed in 1927 by the 60th congress, but which was vetoed by President Coolidge.

Other speakers scheduled for today's meeting include J. C. Pridmore, on "Factors Affecting Fertilizer Consumption in the South"; Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture of Georgia; J. N. Harper, of Atlanta, co-director of agricultural and scientific bureau, and Charles J. Brand.

Georgia points, including L. A. McGraw, of Mason, chairman of the committee. Extended plans for further cooperation with various agencies looking to the development of the state and particularly agriculture, were made by the meeting. The committee was given a luncheon afterward at the Ansley hotel.

With the appearance of Mr. Frost, director general for Wilson's three-ring circus, we are advised that one of the three rings will offer only saw-and-ice acts. This ring, it is said, will be well above the Mason and Dixon line. The second ring will be placed directly over said line, and the third, which will be well below it, is to be the piece de resistance of the whole winter outfit.

According to the advance agent, this ring will draw the "gate" and will offer everything in the way of sports, from muleback to horse racing, and in the way of recreation the beaches will vie with the red, red and nipped.

The Constitution's Wolverine pathfinders have scouted all the trails from the frigid and semi-frigid rings to the balmy Dixie ring. If you plan to attend the show, be certain to select the southern ring, and if you don't know just how to get to the main entrance, just write, wire or call The Constitution's travel bureau. But, by way of trip, there are many entrances, most of which are in Georgia, and notwithstanding many detours, no entrance is superior at this time to several through this state.

Constitution motorlogs may be had at the Travel Bureau, first floor The Constitution, or will be sent post paid for 25 cents. In writing, state where and when you wish to motor.

The recent work of the Wolverine pathfinders makes it easy for The Constitution to give you the best travel information to be had. There is no chance for routings or condition information. The charge for the motorlogs is nominal.

The proposal of France for a treaty to outlaw war between that nation and America is regarded by Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee, as "a step in the right direction."

Preliminary conversations between the two countries, however, indicate that the question is still a long way from the treaty stage and officials see little likelihood of concrete developments for some time.

The proposal was forwarded by M. Briand, foreign minister of France, is understood to be merely a brief message outlining the plan. It is not in the form of a treaty and this country is not expected to reply until the return to France in about three weeks of Ambassador Herriek.

Another proposal for the outlawing of war, that advanced recently by Wickham Steed, British journalist, and suggesting that America refrain from joining forces with a European nation waging aggressive warfare, is not looked upon with so much favor by Senator Borah. This proposal is understood by some to require that America refrain even from trading with such a nation and this, the senator believes, would consist of a violation of neutrality and inevitably make this country "the peculiar arbiter of European warfare."

INSULTS DRAWN IN JACKSON PROBE

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Indianapolis, Ind., November 7.—The charge that Ed Jackson, when secretary of state and being supported for the governorship by the Klan-republican machine dominated by D. C. Stephenson, received $19,000 from a subordinate of Samuel Insull, utilities magnate, that was never reported in Jackson's official summary of 1924 campaign receipts, is being investigated by the county grand jury here as a new phase of the wholesale Indiana political corruption inquiry.

When the charge was first made last fall, it received a perfunctory probing. However, the first grand jury disagreed four to two on returning indictments and the second, which was dismissed because of an attempt to bribe a juror, devoted most of its attention to Indianapolis city hall affairs.

Emphasizing that he corruption inquiry is merely entering its most interesting phases, the grand jury today summoned 11 new witnesses, all presumably to be questioned regarding affairs at the Indiana statehouse. The grand jury already has returned indictments against Governor Jackson, county republican Chairman George Coffin, Jackson's former law partner, Robert L. Marsh; former Mayor John Duvall and members of Duvall's administration.

Alleged contracts between Stephenson, former Klan dragon, now in prison for the murder of a young woman, and 12 of the 13 Indiana congressmen, have also been in the grand jury agenda, with particular attention to Congressman Harry Rowbottom of Evansville, and Congressman Ralph Updike, of Indianapolis, United States Senators James E. Watson and Arthur Robinson have also frequently been mentioned.

James P. Goodrich, former governor and twice special Washington investigator in Russia, was the first to testify before the grand jury today. Charged with malicious mischief, he was locked up. The chief of police said Joseph was subject to fits.

If Alertox Fails in High Blood Pressure
Call In A Doctor

High blood pressure is both functional and organic, more often caused by over-eating and faulty elimination, and sometimes by mental strain. In either case, this new and pleasant-to-take preparation, known as "Alertox," through a process of elimination, not only thoroughly cleanses the system of its impurities, but tends to reduce the pressure in the veins and arteries by carrying out, through the alimentary tract, that excess water content in the blood which ordinarily is sec-toiled through the sweat glands. Alertox will note a decided improvement, not only in reducing blood pressure, but also in your general health, because Alertox is guaranteed to remove, in one action, more poison bile from the system than any other formula, leaving you buoyant, vigorous, and alert, mentally and physically.

Alertox also alkalizes the system and thoroughly cleanses it of the poisons that cause auto-intoxication. Get a bottle from your druggist, and if you are not satisfied after taking a few bottles, your money back. No other drug can supply Alertox, sent direct by Crystal Carbonic Laboratories.

THEATER REVIEWS

Miss Ivy Mertons, New Lead, Scores Triumph as 'Blonde'

BY ELMO HAMBY.

Anita Loos, a winsome, big-eyed actress, extremely blonde young woman, once wrote a book called "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," which is, if you've ever noticed, an infallible indication that a female star is "blonde."

The play itself need not be dwelt upon other than to say that "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," in its stage version, is a wholly new and original production, due to the splendid opportunities for pantomime and voice presentation of the different parts.

Fast Inspired. The remainder of the cast seemed to be inspired by Miss Mertons' performance. Or maybe it was just because they had splendid roles, but whatever the reason, the cast of the play has not been surpassed by anything your reviewer has seen on an Atlanta stage, stock or otherwise.

Miss Mertons' triumph in a role that is absolutely the most difficult part that could have been assigned to a newcomer making her first impression on a stock-loving public, was complete.

Antagonistic Character. And her success was more magnificent because of the fact that she was presenting a character of almost antagonistic nature, that of the cold, heartless, and yet sincerely pitied "gold-digger" who has a live on the "hook" and is all right, but a diamond bracelet on the wrist lasts longer.

In such a role, Miss Mertons, in a manner quite beyond the comprehension of your reviewer or any other dramatic technician whose duty it is to analyze the action and reaction of the audience, has given a completely antagonistic role.

This is known because the women of the audience, had they been judged only by the role itself and Miss Mertons' faithful and true portrayal of it, would never have thought her "too sweet for words," which is, if you've ever noticed, an infallible indication that a female star is "blonde."

Miss Mertons' triumph in a role that is absolutely the most difficult part that could have been assigned to a newcomer making her first impression on a stock-loving public, was complete.

Antagonistic Character. And her success was more magnificent because of the fact that she was presenting a character of almost antagonistic nature, that of the cold, heartless, and yet sincerely pitied "gold-digger" who has a live on the "hook" and is all right, but a diamond bracelet on the wrist lasts longer.

In such a role, Miss Mertons, in a manner quite beyond the comprehension of your reviewer or any other dramatic technician whose duty it is to analyze the action and reaction of the audience, has given a completely antagonistic role.

This is known because the women of the audience, had they been judged only by the role itself and Miss Mertons' faithful and true portrayal of it, would never have thought her "too sweet for words," which is, if you've ever noticed, an infallible indication that a female star is "blonde."

The play itself need not be dwelt upon other than to say that "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," in its stage version, is a wholly new and original production, due to the splendid opportunities for pantomime and voice presentation of the different parts.

Fast Inspired. The remainder of the cast seemed to be inspired by Miss Mertons' performance. Or maybe it was just because they had splendid roles, but whatever the reason, the cast of the play has not been surpassed by anything your reviewer has seen on an Atlanta stage, stock or otherwise.

JANIS' NEW REVUE TAKES HEADLINE PLACE AT GEORGIA

With Ed Janis and his new revue as the highlight, the week's vaudeville bill at Keith's Albee Georgia is one of the most entertaining and best-balanced that has appeared here in many weeks. It is full of thrills and laughter and was given a grand hand from a large matinee crowd Monday.

The Janis act consisted of a number of solo dances and a singing and dancing number. Mr. Janis was ably assisted by Mickey Lee, Irish Gaylor, Ann Roberts and Norma Martinholm.

Jimmy Allard and company, in an act entitled "A Southern Romance," scored a big hit. It was a miniature musical comedy with two young men and three beautiful girls assisting Mr. Allard.

Harry Burke and Eleanor Durkin, who have appeared here before, offered a clever comedy and song act entitled "Tete-a-Tete in Song."

Jim McWilliams, presenting "In a Little Nonsense," produced an unusual and entertaining act.

A real animal circus, consisting of dogs, monkeys, and a pony, all well trained, rounded out the bill.

Thomas Meighan stars in "The City Gone Wild," which will be shown on the screen all week. A new feature, "The City Gone Wild," which will be shown on the screen all week.

Antoinette Richte, that magnificent pantomime artist, with Kelly Masters, as Sir Francis Beckman, supplies the bulk of the "heavy" element of the comedy, with Stanley Andrews in a duet part, also proving immensely successful with the first-night crowds.

Walter Regan, leading man, has the only straight role in the entire play. The story of the rich young moralist who is strangely attracted by the blonde, Miss Lee, Wilson Bryce, a new face with the company, has an excellent little bit which he does well.

Ausonio Arnold, the director, gives a very eminent example of why he is a director, in the part of the French lawyer, Miss Frances Woodbury, who will demonstrate her long-remembered "Tete-a-Tete" in the second act.

VIRTUE TRIUMPHS, DOVE SCINTILLATES AT METROPOLITAN

GOOD VAUDEVILLE AND 'CAMEO KIRBY' SCORE AT CAPITOL

Cameo Kirby—a professional gambler when poker was the national pastime and the major league circuit traveled up and down the Mississippi—Cameo Kirby—good-looking, dashing figure of a man, carrying a handkerchief in his cuff, and a pistol in his shirt-front. Cameo Kirby—John Gilbert at his best, playing the title role in the Capitol Theatre's feature film production for this week.

It is one of the best films that the Capitol has had since its opening. The story itself, of gambling on the Mississippi steam piers where the professional gamblers flourished and gentlemen lost their plantations without batting an eyelash, and if they lost everything, they lost themselves—was good enough to make the picture without good work on the part of a capable cast headed by Gilbert himself.

Then on the stage there's that old-timer—Billy Beard, burnt cork funster, who probably made your dad laugh continuously just like he makes you laugh now. Mr. Beard keeps up a running line of chatter, full of original wisecracks, interspersed with a few songs, and keeps the entire house in a roar.

James Carlisle and Isabelle Lamai present a skit entitled "The Interview" in an entertaining fashion and a number of well-chosen songs in the first act of the bill. A bunch of tumbler, "The Six Bonhairs," close the bill.

A new feature, "The City Gone Wild," which will be shown on the screen all week. A new feature, "The City Gone Wild," which will be shown on the screen all week.

Caught, Climbing On Fire Escape, Youth Is Jailed

Caught in the act of climbing down a fire escape on the John B. Daniel building on Central avenue, Paul Rivers, 21, of College Park, was jailed on a charge of suspicion late Monday night by Captain J. J. Holcomb and Officers E. E. Brackett and A. M. Davis.

According to police, Rivers confessed to having entered the John B. Daniel building on several times recently. He stated that he entered through a back store next to the Daniel company, for which he had a pass key, and then gained entrance to the drug company through an inside door.

When caught Monday night Rivers had in his possession a case of aspirin tablets, a number of women's compact, a wrist watch, and numerous other articles which he admitted taking from the place, police stated.

Rivers told the officers he worked at the Daniel company, and that he had been fired from the job. He stated that he had been fired from the job, and that he had been fired from the job.

CUSTOMER PROTEST OF U.S. OVERRULED

Geneva, Switzerland, November 7.—(AP)—A reference to the necessity of establishing equitable customs duties, which was incorporated at the last meeting in the convention for the removal of trade restrictions brought a strong protest tonight from the American delegation at the international conference.

The American objection, however, the clause was maintained in the convention text.

A controversy occurred in the closing hours of the conference which adopted in the final reading the text of the convention itself the protocol and the "final act."

Fifteen Countries To Sign. Hugh R. Wilson, the American minister to Switzerland, announced that he had not yet received instructions as to signing the treaty, but fifteen countries, including Germany, France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium announced that they would sign the document tomorrow.

The American delegation moved the suppression of two clauses of the "final act" but was defeated on both questions, being supported only by Rumania on one and by Ireland on the other. Wilson, in the course of his speech, said that the United States always had desired some declaration specifically exempting import duties and the manner of applying them from the scope of the convention, which was understood to apply only to the removal of trade prohibitions.

"But," he said, "in relation to customs duties, like Hamlet's ghost, continues to appear when least expected."

Plea of America. The American minister then moved the elimination of the clause which declares that return to freedom of trade of any particular product entails on the producing and consuming countries correlative obligations, which he declared, "should take the form of an equitable regime in regard both to export and import duties, especially where import duties are applied to articles manufactured from raw materials for which free exportation is to be reestablished."

Wilson argued that this clause would seem to force the United States to grant more favorable import duties on manufactured goods to countries which abolish export prohibitions on raw materials, but he declared, the American tariff system does not permit reductions in duties as compensation for favors given.

His move to delete the clause was lost. It was supported only by Rumania, and was opposed by eleven countries, while 14 countries abstained from voting, apparently because of the delicate nature of the question involved.

Chamberlain Hit For Peace Stand By Lloyd George

London, November 7.—(United News).—The padded brick Sir Austen Chamberlain recently threw at Lloyd George has been returned to the secretary of state for foreign affairs with the compliments of the war-time prime minister.

Two weeks ago Lloyd George painted an alarmist picture of Europe, pointing out 10,000,000 men were under arms. Chamberlain replied that Lloyd George was a fine prime minister during the war but that he had done nothing appreciable toward the maintenance of peace.

"While I do not know whether my speech will be equally as important as Chamberlain's," Lloyd George told the Aldwych club Monday, "I assure you it will be equally controversial."

"The world will look more at Lloyd George's war record than

RADIO AGREEMENT IS EXPECTED SOON

Washington, November 7.—(AP)—Hope that by next Saturday complete agreement shall have been reached among delegates to the International Radio conference regarding the convention they have gathered to compile was expressed today by Secretary Hoover, chairman of the conference, who fixed Monday as the date for the next plenary session.

Secretary Hoover's forecast was interpreted by most delegates to mean that by next Saturday all committee work should be finished. Many believed the secretary to have been too optimistic, however, especially as far as the completion of the supplementary international wireless regulations are concerned.

One of the chief committees of the conference, the tariff committee, concluded its work today and adjourned sine die. The provisions decided upon dealt mostly with the application and computation of wireless telegram charges, and therefore presumably will not be subscribed to by the American delegation on the ground that they interfere with the international management of private concerns.

COLORADO STRIKE LEADERS JAILED

Denver, Colo., November 7.—(AP)—Striking miners in Colorado's coal fields tonight found themselves without a directing head following a concerted drive by state police which resulted in the arrest of all known strike leaders including a score of I. W. W. agitators.

Imprisonment of thirty of the strike leaders effected a total stamping out of picketing in the southern strike area. The state's determination to suppress such activity by the strikers was emphasized by the strengthening of a special state law enforcement unit. Governor W. H. Adams revised this department last week to meet the strike emergency, exercising a statute that had been unused for many months.

MARCONI, INVENTOR OF WIRELESS, IS ILL

London, November 7.—(United News.)—Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor of wireless, tonight was reported seriously ill here.

Since his return from America, Marconi's health has been a subject of constant worry. Sunday night an urgent call was sent for the inventor's physician. It was stated tonight that Marconi was progressing, although he probably will not be permitted to leave his bed for many days.

His secretary told the News tonight that "Marconi had a strenuous time on his recent visit to the United States."

"The strain is now telling on him," the secretary added. "We hope absolute rest will restore his health."

North and South American Airway Company Formed

New York, November 7.—(AP)—Formation of a company to control a through airway line connecting North and South America and carrying passengers, express and mail, was announced today by Robert A. Hays, president of the banking firm of Hayden, Stone & Co.

The new company will be known as the Atlantic, Gulf & Caribbean Airline, Inc. Those holding the company include Percy A. Rockefeller, Richard F. Hoyt, and other members of the firm of Hayden, Stone & Co. The Atlantic, Gulf & Caribbean company, which recently was incorporated in Delaware, has purchased a controlling interest and now is the holding company of Panama American Airways. Atkins said. The Panama American company at present is operating an airplane mail service between Key West, Fla., and Havana, Cuba. The holding organization, Atkins said, will seek additional air mail contracts as they are offered for the transportation of mail up the coast of the southern states.

SENATOR SIMMONS WILL NOT LEAD SMITH OPPOSITION

Washington, November 7.—(AP)—Senator Simmons, democrat of North Carolina, today reiterated his opposition to the nomination of Governor Smith of New York for president, but denied that he had undertaken to organize a campaign against Smith.

The senator's statement was contained in a letter to Henry Stutz, Washington correspondent of the Brooklyn Eagle, in reply to the latter's wish that Senator Simmons comment on an article by Frank Kent appearing in the Baltimore Sun.

"Kent in effect charged me with a willingness to sacrifice the interests of the democratic party in the nomination for the purpose of party solidarity in my own state," the letter states, "but I was not interviewed and it would appear that this was based upon speculation or opinion."

"I am opposed to Governor Smith."

Dean Johnston To Give Psychology Lecture Series

A series of six lectures on psychology, by the Rev. Thomas H. Johnston, D. D., Litt. D., dean of St. Philip's cathedral, has been announced for the evenings of November 8, 9, 10 and 15, 16 and 17. The lectures will be given in the chapter house of the cathedral, on East Hunter street, directly opposite the state capitol, beginning each evening at 8 o'clock.

From the days of Pythagoras, the announcement states, psychology has been an absorbing but elusive theme among thinking people, embracing, as it does, the complex matter of mind and soul and the practical employment of man's greatest force, and it is this latter phase of the subject that Dean Johnston intends to treat exhaustively. It is said that the lectures will be free from abstruse terms, as the dean desires to bring out the tremendous possibilities of practical psychology so that the lay student can comprehend and take advantage of its forces.

Dean Johnston is considered an authority on psychology. Long a student of the subject, he plans to impart to his hearers, so far as may be possible, the essence of his years of research in this field.

The general public is invited to attend the lectures, for which a nominal charge will be made, the funds derived to go to the support of the activities of St. Philip's cathedral.

The 20-Year War on Fat Mark the results

In the early part of this century research men discovered a cause of excess fat. It lies in lack of certain elements required in proper nutrition.

They found a way to supply those elements, and many tests were made. First on animals, then on people. The results established a new method of combating excess fat.

That method was embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. For 20 years the over-fat have used them—millions of boxes of them. They have told the results to others. That is one reason why slender figures so prevail today.

No abnormal exercise, no starvation diet. Moderation helps, but radical methods are not advised. Users of Marmola take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal, then they stop.

Every box of Marmola contains the formula, also the reasons for results. Users know just what they are taking, and why. So they have no fear of harm.

If you are overweight, try this scientific method. Do it because of the results it has brought to so many, for so long. Do it for new beauty, new health and vitality. Start today. Give Marmola a chance to show you what it does.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

Opera, Dining Clubs and Pent House Described by Atlantan

Other Notations Make New York Letter Interesting

BY BESSIE STAFFORD,
Editor Women's Department,
Constitution.

New York, November 7.—With his usual astuteness, Gatti-Casazza, impresario of the Metropolitan Opera company, opened the season of 1927 last Monday evening with Puccini's "Turandot," a vehicle admirably suited for such a gala occasion, revealing the beautiful Madam Jeriza glimmering with jewels, surrounded with the flaming glory of costume and stage settings. The opera permitted the blonde Hungarian goddess to exhibit the exquisite timbre and range of her marvelous voice, likewise admitting of splendid acting as a Chinese princess singing of riddles and love amid a spectacular parade of Oriental splendor. The artistically historic opera house at Broadway and Fortieth street, unholstered in crimson velvet and gold leaf, has become an institution in New York, and Monday evening began the forty-third season, with Gatti-Casazza at the helm for the past 20 years. "Turandot" fitted the occasion to perfection and vied with the scintillating splendor of the bigwigs on this side of the footlights. Tullio Serafin conducted with skillful authority, and Lauri-Volpi sang the tender, sheno's role of the Unknown Prince Calaf. Traffic of thousands of limousines rolled up before the entrance of the opera house, and everything was so orderly managed that only an extra dozen guardians of the law directed the orderly crowd. After the golden curtains closed upon the princess and her sweet heart standing on the imperial stairs the exulting courtiers, the thundering applause drowned the rhythmic measures of the orchestra composed of 130 musicians. Thirteen times Madam Jeriza, Lauri-Volpi, and Nannette Guilford, who sang Liu, were revealed. Finally, after a long pause, Madam Jeriza appeared alone, made a curtsy, and kissed her hands to the audience, breaking the superstition supposedly attached to an unlucky thirteen.

The sight was dazzling, even far more so than has ever been imagined by this scribe, who has figured it out that it's because of the rich, red background which serves as a foil for the jewels and gowns worn by the women. And such jewels. Surely no queen, inheriting as she does the gems of rulers handed down through centuries, possesses any surpassing those owned by the millionaire set of America. Otto H. Kahn, America's patron of opera, occupied box number 14, with Mrs. Kahn, while distinguished visitors were his guests. Genial Earl Lewis, the golf-playing partner of Jerome C. Bean, was in the box-office, and the six-months' opera season in New York began exactly on schedule. A fire alarm sent in by someone unaccustomed to "Met" openings called out the department during the first intermission, at the Fortieth street entrance. It proved to be flashlights of newspaper photographers taking society leaders' pictures, who scurried out for a smoke and chat. Otto H. Kahn, the New York Times critic, thinks little of "Turandot," as an opera, declaring it "nothing more than first rate ballroom for the opening of the season, and that Puccini had stopped creating when he wrote it, but mastered the art of saying nothing exceedingly well." Hansel and Gretel, with its chorus of angels has been added to this year's list after a long rest, and a one-act opera "Violand," by "Erich Korngold" will be sung in German on Saturday, its premiere having been recently staged in Vienna, and again featuring the gorgeous Jeriza. Puccini's "La Rondine" (the "Swallow"), and Alfano's "Madonna Imperia," both sung in Italian, completed the trio of new operas added to the Met's repertoire.

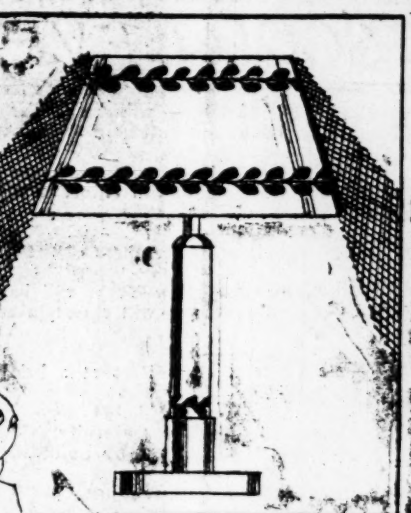

Marking the closing of the centennial celebration of Arnold Constable & Co., fifty prominent New York city federation clubwomen acted as clerks and managed the sales for a week, a percentage of the purchases going toward a fund that is being obtained for the erection of a hotel for working girls and women in the Times Square section. The organization already maintains a hotel for working girls in West Twenty-second street, and the amateur saleswomen were headed by Mrs. Harry Harvey Thomas, president of the federation, and its honorary president and founder, Mrs. Belle de Rivera, and has a membership of 225,000. The fees charged the girls boarding at the hotel are from $6.50 to $7 weekly, for which lodging, two meals and a luncheon box is given.

THE CONNOISSEUR

Mr. Van de View, intent upon the pleasures of the mind. With all the latest books and magazines that he can find, is thwarted in his enterprise because his table light is behaving diabolically—apparently for spite.

So he goes to find another one to give him illumination. And he takes the one with olive leaves around for decoration. To his concentrative efforts this one ought to be conducive. But he finds the mood of thoughtfulness is fitful and elusive.

So he tries a while the marble urn beneath the silken shade. With its classic connotations—it should be a solemn aid. But the atmosphere of Socrates and grave scholastic strife Disheartens aspirations for the intellectual life.

And then at last he tries a lamp that's humorous instead. A modernistic mannequin who wears it on his head. He sees in great relief that it's the best that he has found. For, after all, he thinks 'tis humor makes the world go 'round.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified preparation of cod liver oil. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—(adv.)

Visitors To Attend 'The Only Girl' At Woman's Club

Many out-of-town reservations have been made for Victor Herbert's "The Only Girl," to be presented by the Brenau Endowment club, Saturday, November 12, at the Woman's club, for the benefit of the endowment fund, which has almost reached its goal of $500,000.

All of the Brenau clubs within a reasonable distance are supporting this performance. Miss Margaret Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Newman, of Gainesville, is leading lady. George Gaisert, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Gaisert, president of the Tech Glee club, will play the leading male role, and if he is as good as his cousin, Mary Leila Patterson, who played the lead in "Robin Hood" for the 1926 season of light opera in Atlanta, he will certainly please his audience.

The dance ensemble is composed of students from the Potter-Spicer studios, and two solo dances will be given during the interludes by Miss Sarah Sharp and Miss Robert Goster Har-director and, with a 15-piece orchestra, will interpret the beautiful themes of Victor Herbert's work. Verdery Rosenbush has the soprano role, in which she does some exquisite dancing and pantomime. She is well known to Atlanta audiences through her local appearances. The male quartet is exceptionally well balanced, and is a splendid feature of the performance. This feature includes George Gaisert, Nathan Ayres, Griffith Edwards and Joe Crawley. Miss Fay Logan, Miss Eloise More and Mrs. Lillian Bray have good comedy roles in the production and are also featured in the lovely sextette number.

MAN HAD TO STOP WORK WHEN HEADACHE CAME ON

How a few doses of Thedford's Black-Draught brought relief to a man who had been suffering from frequent spells of severe headaches, is told below in the statement of Mr. Charles E. Todd, of Estaburg, near Waynesburg, Kentucky:

"About ten years ago," says Mr. Todd, "I was suffering with nervous headaches. About once a week I would have these headaches, and have to quit work, and go to bed for about twenty-four hours. I would have pains in my neck, and right behind my right ear."

"A merchant at Estaburg saw me one day when I was suffering, and told me to try taking Black-Draught, which I did."

"I took a package home that night, and took a few doses. It relieved me. From that time on, I would take Black-Draught as soon as I felt like I was going to have one of those headaches—and they wouldn't come on."

"Every few weeks, I take three or four doses of Black-Draught, and I feel so well, and do more work, and don't lose any more time with headache."

"I haven't had a headache in six months, and when I think of the time I have lost, and the pain I have suffered, I regret that I didn't hear of Black-Draught sooner. But I am feeling fine now."

Thedford's Black-Draught is made from pure, medicinal roots and herbs. It contains no harmful, dangerous mineral drugs.

Sold everywhere: 25 doses, 25c. Ask your druggist. JA-79.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold, with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up at night with a hoarse cough, and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 25c ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified honey, if desired. This makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes of the throat and bronchial tubes with an ease and promptness that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaicol, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

Intersectional Clashes Feature Saturday's Grid Card

Irish-Army Tussle Top Big Games

Sectional Contest Also Comes in for Share of Gridiron Spotlight.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution.)
Chicago, November 7.—Three important intersectional struggles and as many sectional contests, results of which will have a bearing on national and sectional championship honors, will feature the list of football games to be played on Saturday.

In one of these intersectional contests Notre Dame will meet the Army in New York city in the presence of 67,000 enthusiasts. Although Notre Dame was held to a tie by Minnesota last Saturday, the result of this game has not dampened the ardor of eastern football fans who are always eager to see the fighting Irish in action.

Irish Put to Test.
Notre Dame was not the test by the Gophers and judging from accounts and comments of those who saw the struggle, Coach Rockne's eleven was outplayed. General opinion, however, is that the score denotes the defensive power of both teams and that Minnesota is entitled to a world of credit for its great battle.

In the Army, Notre Dame will meet a team which will be nearly as strong as Minnesota. In fact, the Cadets may present a more varied and concentrated attack than the Gophers, but they cannot be expected to put up a more stubborn defense. On the other hand, Notre Dame should profit by the grueling battle with Minnesota and its attack may be much more effective.

Bill Ingram will bring his Navy eleven into the fray against Michigan at Ann Arbor. Although both teams have been defeated the game should attract a country crowd as the result means much to both sides.

Seaboard, which was defeated by Missouri earlier in the season, 7 to 6, will go into the east to meet Pittsburg. The Panthers are one of the undefeated eleven of the country but were held to a scoreless tie by W. & J. last Saturday.

The Corn Huskers are a powerful team. They have a strong line and a smashing backfield. They have a splendid attack which is made up of the best formations of the old and new game. It is also a strong defensive aggregation and indications are the battle may result in a tie if both teams play their characteristic defensive game. It is an important game on the schedule of both elevens.

Important Game.
Illinois, which is leading the pack in the chase for the western conference championship, will meet Chicago at Champaign in the most important game in the midwestern. Illinois has defeated Northwestern Michigan and

American League Umps Honor Johnson

Chicago, November 7.—(AP)—American league baseball umpires who have worked under Byron Baneroff Johnson, former American league president for years, sent a testimonial to their former chief, a set of resolutions embossed on a big bronze plaque.

Clarence Rowland and "Brick" Owens have the gift to Excelsior Springs, Mo., where Johnson is recuperating, and Hugh Bennett, Chicago lawyer and baseball fan, will make a brief speech in presenting it to the American league founder tomorrow.

The umpires had planned to present their present to Johnson on his scheduled retirement, November 1, but his resignation two weeks earlier complicated their plans. The ten baseball arbiters, headed by Tom Connolly, who has worn the mask and chest protector in the league since it was founded, 27 years ago, had their facsimile signatures stamped on the plaque, which was mounted on a mahogany base, twelve inches by eighteen.

Rather Close.
To the umpires the ten pins look as close as a party of collegians and as close as the back steps.

But when the ball gets down there they seem as far apart as a hula dancer and modesty.

Games Wanted.
The Gulf Refining company quietly last year's champions of the city has been asked to arrange a game with a team in any nearby town for some Saturday night.

For information call Murray Shropshire, manager, Walnut 4915.

Gravity.
Gravity is what knocks the ten pins down and cussed luck what keeps them standing.

Iowa in a row, and aside from meeting Chicago on the coast, will play Ohio State on November 19. Coach Zuppke's eleven figures to win but the Maroons will put up a battle all the way.

In the east, the annual battle between Princeton and Yale at New Haven will overshadow every other game. Although Old Eli has been defeated by Georgia, the Blue has shown such improvement since this setback that it is now rated on even terms with the Tigers.

Illinois, which is a powerful football team. Coach Bill Roper has a strong team. It is heavy, strong and alert. It charges hard and low and the players continue to run after making their first lunge. There is power in the backfield. Miles, the fullback, is one of the best in the east. He is effective in backing up a line and one of the few players seen this year who has sized up opponents' attacks and then moved over to the danger spots on the enemy speed.

Princeton, however, is a powerful football team. Coach Bill Roper has a strong team. It is heavy, strong and alert. It charges hard and low and the players continue to run after making their first lunge. There is power in the backfield. Miles, the fullback, is one of the best in the east. He is effective in backing up a line and one of the few players seen this year who has sized up opponents' attacks and then moved over to the danger spots on the enemy speed.

Yale can be depended upon to put up a stubborn battle. In last Saturday's game with Ohio State, Princeton did not show much upon football. They appeared unenthusiastic and their formations for Yale, which must be prepared to meet most any sort of attack. It will be a battle of the lines and at present there is little to choose between them.

Aside from the Chicago-Illinois game, Northwestern will meet Indiana in the homecoming game at Evansville. The Hoosiers will play Ohio State at Columbus and Butler will meet Purdue at Lafayette. Missouri, which is leading over the Missouri football conference champions, will clash with the strong Iowa State eleven at Ames.

3 New Pilots Are Appointed In National

O'Farrell, McInnis and Bancroft Shifted From Head of Respective Clubs.

New York, November 7.—(AP)—National league teams will have at least three new pilots for the 1928 pennant race.

It was assured today when two shifts were announced almost simultaneously, one resulting in the selection of Bill McKeechie to succeed Bob O'Farrell as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and the other sending Burt Shotton to replace Stuffy McInnis at the helm of the Phillies. The Boston Red Sox, created by the departure of Dave Bancroft to Brooklyn, was filled recently by the appointment of Jack Slater, Boston college coach.

McKeechie was a Cardinal coach last season and takes over full managerial responsibilities with the hearty approval of the man he succeeds. O'Farrell never has entertained managerial ambitions and succeeded Rogers Hornsby, it is understood, only at the urgent request of President Sam Breadon. The latter now is convinced, however, that to send a great catcher like O'Farrell is an expensive way of obtaining a manager. Given a $5,000 salary increase, O'Farrell will be content to attend to his backstopping next year.

A Comeback.
It is a comeback for McKeechie, who led Pittsburgh to a pennant and world's championship in 1925, but was released at the close of the 1926 season after discussion and dropped out in favor of Fred Clarke. He is now back in the game and is expected to repeat.

Shotton steps into the major league managerial spotlight from the "A. A. U. C." ranks, just as Joe McCarthy, Donie Bush and Dan Howley have in recent seasons. He has played the "big time" outfield for Washington, the Browns and Cardinals, but managed the Syracuse Nationals last season, converting them from a second division outfit to a pennant contender and finishing in second place.

McInnis, who has been with six major league clubs at one time or another, was released unconditionally by the Phillies.

TWO 'BIG TEN' ELEVENS HIT BY INJURIES

Chicago, November 7.—(AP)—Roll call at the camps of the three leaders in the western conference—Chicago, Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan, found no serious casualties tonight, but Chicago and Northwestern of the hopeless contenders were nursing many injuries.

The Michigan team nearly earned an "Iron Men" reputation in Saturday's conflict with Chicago, for no substitutions were necessary until the last few minutes of play. Even Louis Gilbert, the center of the enemy attack for four weeks, and more brittle than the average backfield star, through unexplained and ready to out-range the Navy at Ann Arbor.

Come Through Easily.
Wisconsin and Indiana had easy opponents Saturday, and came through with only an average workout. Purdue's two great runners, Wilcox and Welch, have a fortnight's rest before facing their Big Ten enemies as a backfield team against Indiana.

The Northwestern cripples have the added depression of three straight defeats. In Iowa's case, though, that is only the beginning for the Hawkeyes have ten straight conference defeats to rally from, and the greatest line in the Big Ten to crash against Saturday at Wisconsin.

Indiana began the second week of preparation today for Northwestern, with a light drill.

Chicago Battered.
Chicago is battered and broken, defeated twice in a row, and with Captain Ken Rouse, the keystone of the defense line at center, among the cripples, but Grodzinski Stagg is priming his team for its greatest rival, Illinois, next Saturday, in their thirty-first annual struggle at Urbana.

Illinois has coasted through two of its three conference victories without disclosing Coach Zuppke's entire repertoire.

Minnesota, Ohio State and Purdue started a week of easy yields today, with the regulars excused for a few days.

S. S. A. A. CAGE NEWS

The Sunday School Athletic association will hold its regular basketball meeting Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock on the fourth floor of the Atlanta Athletic club.

Fourteen basketball teams have signified their intention of entering the association and at this meeting these teams will be divided into leagues. Much must be done before the season gets under way and a full representation must be had in order to accomplish the work necessary.

The opening date has been set for the first part of December, and this being the case, schedules and by-laws must be drawn up. Committees will be appointed to attend these matters at this meeting.

The rule limiting men from playing in one team will also be discussed. Some of the largest churches in the city are members of the association, and this will be the ninth season of operation for the S. S. A. A. All games will be played on the Atlanta Athletic club court.

BOXING NEWS

BY JACK FARRELL

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, November 7.—Paulino Uzcudun, according to Matchmaker Jess McMahon, of the Madison Square Garden, has received a six months' extension to his visitor's passport, which will permit him to stick around here until next spring. Uzcudun was originally slated to depart for his native Basque country on November 15.

Sid Terris Marooned.
New York, November 7.—"I am marooned at Santa Clara, Come and get me with an airplane," wired Sid Terris today from flooded Havana, N. H., to his manager, Abe Katz, in dry New York. It's tough to have your crack lightweight marooned, but after scouting around, Abe learned it's tougher to find a plane available on such short notice.

So Sid will stay marooned a while longer.

Challengers to Meet.
New York, November 7.—Two challengers for the world's flyweight title, vacated by Fidel LaBarba, will battle for ten rounds or less Wednesday night at the Pioneer Sporting club. The belligerents will be Corporal Izzy Schwartz, of New York, and Willie Davies, from Charleroi, Pa.

The winner will advance to the semifinal round of the New York boxing commission's elimination tournament.

Jack in a Jam.
New York, November 7.—If Jack Dempsey has purchased $150,000 worth of Madison Square Garden stock, as announced, he is due to find himself in a jam with the New York state athletic commission. He may be forced to turn his holdings in the Rickard arena over to his wife or mother to be eligible to fight in this state again.

According to a commission rule, no boxer having any financial interest in any boxing club will be permitted to box in this state, and the commission will not bend that rule to accommodate Dempsey, its members indicated today.

Knute Very Popular.
New York, November 7.—It appears Knute Hansen's victory over Phil Scott, of Great Britain, has created a general demand for the Raging Norwegian's services. Humbert J. Fugazy, the Brooklyn promoter, is trying to book Knute for a fight with George Godfrey, the new negro mauler, for the opening show of his new indoor arena.

Petrels Begin Work for Tilt With Mercer

Bob Shepherd, Oglethorpe Fullback, Breaks Ankle in Game With P. C.

BY FRID MEACHIN.
Encouraged by their recent triumph over Presbyterian college, the stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe are bucking down to a strenuous training program in preparation for the annual encounter with the strong Mercer team at Macon next Friday.

Mercer and Oglethorpe have always been the keenest of rivals and the game this week promises to be one of the hardest contests of the Petrels thus far this season. This game with the Bears is probably the most important S. I. A. A. booking on the Petrel card and the locals are journeying to Macon with the intentions of bringing home a victory.

By virtue of the impressive record Mercer has established this year, the stormy Petrels will be considered the under dog by the dopsters. And the fact that Bob Shepherd, star fullback, who was injured in the last play of the P-C game Saturday, will be unable to participate in this week's melee, boosts the chances of the Bears considerably. Shepherd had a bone broken in his left ankle and the injury will probably keep him out of the game for the remainder of the season. However, supporters of Oglethorpe are optimistic and hoping that he will soon be in uniform.

Now that the jinx which has pursued the Birds for the better part of a whole year has been thrown off, they are getting down to hard training and will endeavor to atone for the games they lost during the first part of the season.

At practice Monday afternoon the boys went through a long period of running signals, passing and punting. Scrimmage was deferred until this afternoon when the varsity will battle the rats who tied the Mercer Cubs in Macon last Saturday. This skirmish will probably be followed by a similar workout Wednesday afternoon and then a final practice Thursday before entraining for Macon on Friday.

It is expected that Haywood Clemens, varsity end who has been out of every game this year on account of an injury, will be able to enter the game against Mercer, which will give strength to the Birds' defense.

Alley-Cats.
Well, the boys are back in the alley again.

Walter Johnson Is Made Free Man

Washington, November 7.—(AP)—Walter Johnson, for nearly two decades the maharajah of the Washington American league club's hurling staff, is free to sign the contract offered him two weeks ago to manage the Newark Bears, in the International league.

American league headquarters notified the Washington team today that all 11 teams in the majors had waived their claims to the veteran pitcher and he was immediately handed his unconditional release.

EARL SANDE'S CASE TO BE HEARD TODAY

Baltimore, Md., November 7.—(AP)—The Maryland racing commission, which revoked the jockey license of Earl Sande for committing an alleged foul in the Pimlico futurity Friday, will give the motorist a hearing tomorrow. This was announced tonight by James A. Laine, chairman, following receipt of a written request from Sande that he be given an opportunity to state his case.

Sande has been reluctant to discuss his disbarment, which prevents him from riding on any track until he stands before the commissioners. He will introduce two witnesses in his behalf, understood to be jockeys who rode in the classic. Sande's Bureau is alleged to have set in front of Reich Count, the favorite, forcing him against the rail and ruining his stride when both were leading at the home stretch. Names of the witnesses were not divulged.

Laine declared Sande had not been "railroaded," that his act was witnessed by two members of the commission. William Doyle, a patrol judge, whose charges brought Sande's suspension from Pimlico for the season and his subsequent set down from all tracks by the commission, will probably be the star witness. The accused has professed innocence of the charge.

Just Rolling Along.
A great howler is never a guy who hurries. He just rolls along.

William J. Collier, an undertaker and acquaintance of many years, took the fighter to the hospital.

Jack Dempsey Favors Czar Of Ring Game

Former Champion Arrives For Battle With Jack Kearns.

Atlantic City, N. J., November 7.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey returned to Atlantic City today preparatory to his legal battle with Jack Kearns in the New Jersey courts, November 22.

Dempsey, in an interview, advocated a national boxing commissioner much on the order of Judge Landis in baseball and Will H. Hays in the movies. He would have him be the last word in the boxing game, decide on the referees, judges, timekeepers and doctors for championship and all important contests.

"I don't mean to say that there shouldn't be any state commission," he said. "I believe they are good for the game. But I do want to go on record as saying that there should be one big one like Landis or Hays to have the final word where title and outstanding bouts are concerned."

"There is no use crying over spilled milk, but things could have been much better in my bout with Tunney out in Chicago if there had been the proper officials. I venture to say that Gene was on the floor 18 or more seconds."

Dempsey declared that he doesn't plan to make any settlement with Kearns over the $25,000 suit instituted against him by his former manager. Instead, he is going to fight to the finish and if the courts believe Kearns should get any money he'll gladly pay the sum.

Jack chuckled when asked if he planned to retire from the ring soon. "I don't intend to quit the ring as long as the public wants to see me," he said. "I feel in perfect health and believe I can go on fighting for many more years. No matter what happens to me in the ring I plan to be identified with the landis or Hays as long as I live. It is my business and my hobby."

Sam in Hospital.
New York, November 7.—Sam Langford, famous old-time negro fighter, was admitted to Bellevue hospital today for treatment for a catarract of the left eye. The heavyweight, who was in his prime in the days of Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson, gave his age at the hospital as 35.

William J. Collier, an undertaker and acquaintance of many years, took the fighter to the hospital.

COX, TANNER MEET TONIGHT IN MAIN BOUT

Eddie Cox and Texas Tanner, two leading colored boxers, will meet tonight at the city auditorium in the main bout of a 34-round boxing card for the southern lightweight championship.

The big cowboy has a long string of knockout victories to his credit and will give the local battler lots to think about before the final gong sounds if the mill goes the limit. Tanner has met and defeated some mighty good scrappers and is looking forward to adding Cox to his list. Cox, however, has been knocking them off around this section lately and will be everything to stop the big Texan. Both fighters ended their training Tuesday in good shape and a real scrap is expected tonight.

Cowboy Kid will go out of his class to fight Kid Macon in one of the preliminary bouts. This lad fights like Deacon Flowers, and is very hard to stop. He has a long string of knockouts to his credit. Kid Macon was defeated recently by Ray Dunn, of Macon, but the Kid is determined to make a comeback.

There will also be three other good heavyweights and a middleweight. Kid Davis and Hilly Hooper, who are staging this all-star card, report a brisk ticket sale.

Tickets for the bout are on sale at Chess's place and Herndon's barber shop. Admission will be 75 cents, $1.00 and $1.50, plus tax.

PILES

Go Quickly Without Cutting or Using Messy Salves.

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonard found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonard tried it in hundreds of cases with a marvellous record of success, such a wonderful record that HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Jacobs' drug stores today. It has given quick and lasting relief to thousands and must do the same for you or money back.—(adv.)

Jackets Are Back Home for Final Games of 1927 Season

Tech Begins Working For L.S.U. Game

Squad Comes Through Game With Vanderbilt in Good Physical Shape.

BY BEN COTHMAN.

Tech is back home again and the Jackets will stay at home for the rest of the season. Which is probably a good thing, with L. S. U. Oglethorpe, Auburn and Georgia to be met on successive week ends. For, if there is none other, Tech has the advantage of being the home team.

Being at home doesn't mean that Tech is in for any soft spots in the next four weeks. Mike Donahue and his Tigers of L. S. U. were the victims of one of those "upsets" last Saturday when a tie game came through before a homecoming day crowd and pierced the Tigers' vaunted defense twice to score a 13 to 6 victory.

That was happening at Oxford while Tech and Vandy were staging a great battle that ended in a 0-0 deadlock. Now, at Baton Rouge, Donahue, who ruled southern football with his strong teams turned out at Auburn in years gone by, is preparing his team for a battle with Tech.

Tech Begins Work. Out at the flats Monday afternoon the Jackets began getting ready for this invasion from Louisiana and the forthcoming week will see Tech being drilled more in blocking than anything else. Ineffective blocking, so the post-mortem reports from Vanderbilt have it, held the Jackets back considerably and was the cause several times of Thomson and Mizell not getting away for considerable gains.

Monday afternoon was given over to limbering up exercises, signal drill and the going over of mistakes made in the titanic struggle of Saturday afternoon on DuPont field.

Scrimage Today Probable. It is highly possible that this aft-

WEALTH OF MATERIAL KEEPS GEORGIA TEAM FROM GOING "STALE"

BY WHITNER CARY.

Can Georgia's "Scout Battalion of Death" keep the same frenzied pace that this "Dream and Wonder" team has maintained through the first six games of the 1927 season?

That is the question that is anxiously framed on the lips of every Red and Black supporter as his eager and straining eyes peer toward the end of the football rainbow where honor, fame and glory lie in waiting. That is the query that floats out from the southern conference as the mighty Dixie hosts swing into the final struggles and prepare for the heart-breaking stretch duel. That is the interrogation mark that nightly canopies the rival camps wherein are housed the football warriors whose armor will get a chance to face the Athenian attack.

center on a Roanoke whirlwind and a man who deserves a great deal of credit for the sensational showing the Bulldogs have made. Why it was that Ecken could keep his teams keyed up to such a high pitch that there was seldom an apparent letdown.

How Georgia Keeps Going. "Very stiff competition for every play on the team and an abundance of material," was the answer. Now to some extent the same condition exists at Georgia this season. Especially is this true of the backfield material. Every piece on the Battalion of Death real or that the slightest faltering on his part or the faintest show of a slump will see another red-coated warrior step to carry on. Add to this the fact that there is such a wealth of material that Coach Woodruff can conserve his forces and dole out assignments with a stingy hand, and you realize why that it is little chance for a Georgia player to get stale on football.

As usual, the squad came through without any injuries. In every game this season Tech has shown its physical fitness which, in a large part, accounts for the fight that characterizes the team in its games.

It's the beginning of the end for Tech with Georgia's great team waiting at the final barrier in the home stretch. Tech must prepare for the coming Saturday—and also for the three following, each as hard as the other. To come through successfully will take everything Tech has. Tech is preparing to give it.

Bulldogs Rest After Winning Six Straight

Red and Black Warriors Return Home From Florida Invasion in Good Shape.

BY BOB SHERROD.

Athens, Ga., Nov. 7.—Following their sixth consecutive victory of the season on Saturday, the Georgia Bulldogs took a day off Monday, no practice.

The team was found in good shape after the Florida engagement. McCrary's injury has proven to be slight and he will be in shape for the Clemson game in Athens next Saturday. Bobby Hooks has two small bones broken in his hand but the hurt is of little or no consequence. In fact, Bobby played most of the game at Jacksonville with the bones broken and did not know anything was actually wrong until an X-ray was made.

The Bulldogs have now scored 170 points, as compared with 13 for the opposition. Their conference record is 12-1-3. The goal line, which has yet to be broken by the opposition, was very much endangered Saturday when the "Gators" advanced the ball as far as the six-inch line, but here it was held by the Bulldogs' proved its undoubted worth by holding.

Increases Leads. McCrary increased his scoring lead by making 18 of the 28 points marked up against Florida. The individual scoring is as follows: McCrary 54, Hooks 26, Dudley 24, McTigue 18, Rostetter 12, Johnson 12, Nash 6, Estes 6, Cox 6, and Cook 6. The Georgians boosted their point after touchdown scoring Saturday when Johnson kicked four out of four. The team now has 14 single points out of 26 tried. Johnson has kicked all of these except two scored by Hooks.

After three road trips in the last three weeks, the Bulldogs remain at home for a couple of Saturdays. Clemson is on the menu this coming weekend and Mercer follows in Athens November 13. Then it is Clemson again, a conference game. After these come Alabama in Birmingham on Thanksgiving, and Tech in Atlanta in the final game on December 3.

Three good backfields. It takes a lot of action for three complete sets of backs to get enough football. Consequently whenever a backfield change is made on the Georgia team, the fresh gallopers go in with all the dash and fire that is born of a starved football appetite.

Whether it's the Dynamite Four—some, composed of Estes, McTigue, Rostetter and Broadway; the Brimstone Quartet, consisting of McCrary, Hooks, Dudley and Johnson; or the Pony Quadruplet, of Cox, Hill, Cook and Paris, the answer is the same as concerns the fire, dash and snap for action. There may be some difference in the mechanical output of those three sets of misery dealing backfields, but there is no question as to their ardor for combat.

There may be some let-down on the part of the Battalion of Death, but at this writing there is not the slightest evidence of that dreaded word "stale" creeping into the locker room at Athens.

RETURN BOUT FOR DUNDEE IS OPPOSED

Los Angeles, November 7.—(P)—Promised drastic action by the prosecutor in connection with the Hudkins-Dundee fight fiasco was postponed today while members of the state athletic commission were hailed to the investigator's court to explain certain phases of the "no-contest" title bout.

Dr. E. J. Lickley, the prosecutor, after questioning Dr. W. P. McQuinn, the investigator, announced he would delay action to close question the two other commissioners, Charles Traugott, of San Francisco, and Louis Alton, of San Diego.

The prosecutor announced last week that if the commissioners could not answer questions concerning the $50,000 guarantee by Promoter Dunald and other things he would make the state official parties to a "gigantic fight fraud." Dr. Lickley said he would make a full report to Governor C. C. Young.

Before Strelinger went to Dr. Lickley's office, Dundee, his manager, Max Dunan, and Donald, at pleaded guilty to a charge of false advertising and had their trials by jury set for December 2.

Walter A. Yarwood, secretary of the athletic commission, informed Governor Young at Sacramento that the commission will try to bring order out of the fight fiasco. The governor pointed out the future welfare of the fight game in the state hinged upon the supervision the commission gave boxing.

A proposal to stage the fight here November 21 met with the statement from Dr. Lickley that his office would take immediate steps to prevent it. "I am unalterably opposed to any attempt to hold a prize fight between Dundee and Hudkins," he said.

The decision to attempt re-staging of the title bout on the deferred date was arrived at yesterday in a conference in which Strelinger, Dundee, Waxman and Donald participated.

Army-Navy Game Tickets in Demand

New York, November 7.—(P)—Although the Army-Navy football classic, scheduled this year at the Polo Grounds, is nearly three weeks off there have been about ten applications for every available ticket. This was indicated today by the mass of applications received at the offices of the New York Giants.

Approximately 75,000 seats will be available for the game, a record for New York. But it is estimated that 600,000 applications have been made for them through all sources.

The bulk of the tickets are disposed of through the rival service academies or the Army and Navy association. There is no public sale, the grandstand tickets are priced at $4 each.

Coast League Votes For Split Season

San Francisco, November 7.—(P)—Directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball league today voted 6 to 2 in favor of the split season plan, and it will be put into effect next year. Two 13-week seasons will be scheduled, the winners to meet for the pennant. It was declared to be the first time that a class AA league has adopted the split season plan.

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS.

This Conference Question.

There comes a lull in the storm of football and the scene of battle shifts from the soil of Georgia and Alabama to Tennessee, where Saturday should see one of the most titanic struggles of the conference season.

Almost everyone in this neck of the football timber is wont to look upon Tennessee as a school apart and consider Vanderbilt seriously only when Georgia Tech or Georgia play the Commodores.

But again this year the Volunteers under the tutelage of Major Bob Neyland must be seriously considered in this conference race. They play seven conference foes and cannot be shunted into the background if they go through unscathed.

Many followers of the game will laugh at this prospect. These are believers in the superiority of Vanderbilt. And Vandy has a great team, but so has Tennessee. Those who believe the game to be in the Commodore refrigerator are sadly mistaken. That game will not be decided until the final whistle and we—though hardly qualified to pass on Tennessee, not having seen them in action—are inclined to believe that Vandy will find a nut it can't crack.

The great Spears will be there with his versatile feet and hands but it was proven last Saturday that he can be successfully fielded in check and that the great aerial game can be completely stopped. The Commodores have their Spears, but the Vols have their Dodson, the man who will push Herdie McCrary for all southern honors.

The more one looks at the perspective of the S. I. C. race the more it seems entirely probable that the Tech-Georgia game on December 3 will be the keynote of the entire situation.

Let us just suppose for the sake of argument that the Vols beat Vandy and go through their schedule undefeated. They can then claim a superiority over Tech on the grounds that they have not been tied. On the other hand, Tech can claim their advantage of one more conference struggle on the schedule if they are fortunate enough to go through without a defeat.

And that comes down to the Tech-Georgia game again. Again we will suppose that Georgia beats Alabama—a supposition which is backed by all the dope—and comes to Tech without a defeat or a tie. Again the question of conference games arises and here again Tech has the advantage. But this advantage will fade into thin air if the Bulldog swarms the Jackets at Grant field.

In that case, Tennessee, provided it can beat Vandy and go the rest of the way, will dispute Georgia's claim to the title. In face of Georgia scores to date the Bulldogs will have an edge on the argument, but in the matter of games won the figures will be the same.

In short words, the Tennessee-Vandy game of this weekend and the Georgia-Alabama game of Thanksgiving day will lead to the grand climax at Grant field. The ultimate result of the conference race should be decided on that December day at the flats. Try and get tickets to the game.

City Basketball League Formed

The City Basketball league was practically formed at a meeting held at Trammell Scott's Monday night. Six teams have entered and the season will open Thursday, December 8, with the Atlanta Athletic club Reds and Avondale meeting in the opener at 7:30 o'clock.

"Shorty" Doyal and "Buddy" Hammond have been selected as referees. Three rounds will be played and the games will take place on the A. A. C. court. It was decided to sell 25-cent tickets to the different teams for half-price in order to allow them to enjoy one-half of the gate receipts. Earl Mann was put in charge of the ticket sale. From all indications this league should enjoy a better season than ever as some of the best teams in the city are entered in the loop. Rufus Bass is assisting the A. A. C. Reds, and Scrapy O'Sullivan is coaching the Southern railway. Southern Bell has been strengthened and the Knights of Columbus have a large bunch working out. Avondale has a few former stars lined up and all will make it hard-going for the Gulf quintet, last year champions.

The six teams that have entered the city league are Southern Bell, Southern railway, Atlanta Athletic club Reds, Gulf Refining company, Avondale and the Knights of Columbus. The next business meeting will be Monday at 7:30 o'clock at Trammell Scott's.

K. O. Kaplan Wins. New York, November 7.—(P)—Al Walker, negro heavyweight of Jacksonville, Fla., won from Arthur Dekuh, of Italy, on a foul in the first round of a ten-round match tonight. Dekuh was disqualified for hitting Walker while the latter still was on one knee after a knockdown. Walker weighed 187, Dekuh 206.

K. O. Phil Kaplan, New York middleweight, defeated Harry Ebbets, of Brooklyn, in six rounds.

Molinsky Loses. New York, November 7.—(P)—Emil Paluso, Salt Lake City bantamweight, whipped Mike Molinsky, Boston, in a 10-round bout here tonight. Paluso weighed 117, Molinsky 119.

Pinky Mays, 120, of Havana, won a six-round decision over Eddie Penos, 115-1-2, New York.

Marquette Meets Eastern Eleven

Milwaukee, Wis., November 7.—One of the outstanding gridiron battles in the middle west next Saturday, November 12, will be the intersectional game between the Holy Cross College Crusaders of Worcester, Mass., and the Marquette University Golden Avalanche in the Marquette stadium. The two teams will meet in Worcester in 1928, and this fall's clash is the first athletic meeting between the schools.

Holy Cross, as usual, has one of the strongest teams in the east this fall and Coach Cleo O'Donnell and his crew will invade Milwaukee this weekend but on giving the middle-western grid fans a demonstration of the east's most advanced tactics. O'Donnell has an aggregation of stars at the Worcester school, and they have the reputation of possessing two splendid assets—a peerless line and a sensational forward pass attack.

For the last two years Holy Cross has defeated Harvard decisively, but this fall the Crimson turned the tables and won by a lone touchdown, 14 to 6. The game, reports say, was played on a muddy field which eliminated the Crusaders' overhead threat and was decided largely by "breaks" of the game. Otherwise the easterners are undefeated and hold wins over St. John's, Dayton, Catholic University and Rutgers. Their 29-0 win over Rutgers showed them to be in their stride for the remaining games.

O'Donnell rates his line as one of the greatest he has had in his eight years at Holy Cross, a line that will compare with his great forward wall of 1922, which included the all-American Hilary.

SANDLOT NEWS. A meeting of teams in the 105-pound class of the Atlanta Sandlot league will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the offices of Sam Saltzman at 121 1-2 Auburn avenue to arrange for next Saturday's games. Teams in the 125 and 140-pound division will meet Wednesday night. Officials of the league announce that teams that have not weighed in will not be scheduled for next Saturday and all members are requested to do so in time for the games.

Citadel Prepares For Wofford 11

Charleston, S. C., November 7.—How to get around Wofford's defense is what will be the chief matter stressed at Citadel practices this week as the Cadets prepare for the coming of Tommy Seafie's Terriers. The Wofford eleven will be seen in action here Saturday afternoon in the new municipal stadium.

Exactly. A howling alley is like Wall street. Everybody is trying to knock down as much as he can.

BIG MAT CARD IS PLANNED NOVEMBER 17

It may be a long, long time before Atlanta fans see Ed "Strangler" Lewis in action again.

Not that Lewis does not like to wrestle here. On the contrary, he enjoys his Atlanta visits, because most always they net a handsome purse.

However, Lewis has made Matchmaker John Contos rather nervous by refusing to meet Wayne "Big" Munn in a match at the city auditorium the night of November 17 and John has declared that Lewis will not get another match here until he meets Munn.

Despite his inability to get the Lewis-Munn match Contos is going ahead with plans for his November 17 show and says that he will offer three good bouts. However, Munn will not appear on the program. In that connection Contos said:

"No need of bringing Munn here unless I can get a good opponent for him. He is so big and strong that that is hard to do. I had counted on Lewis meeting the former Nebraska star, but he has refused and I can't locate a good man for Munn."

Contos announced that he would continue his policy of bringing in new and star wrestlers to entertain the Atlanta fans, but that does not mean that all of the old favorites will be dropped overboard. One or two of the mainstays that Atlanta fans have come to like will be on the November 17 program, so Contos allows.

NEW YORK, November 7.—(P)—

The cotton market was quiet today, with an early advance followed by reactions, to 20.85 and closed at 20.85, the general market closing steady at a net advance of 1 to 7 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 12 to 17 points, active buyers selling at 18 points, net higher in early trading on covering and local buying promoted by unfavorable weather reports and after early buying orders had been supplied, the market appeared to be without much support. Further evening up in preparation for tomorrow's holiday or the government report on Wednesday was dominated by realizing or liquidation of small long accounts. December sold off from 21.00 to 20.80, or 2 points net lower, while May reacted from 21.25 to 21.12 or within 3 points of Saturday's closing.

MARKET TRADERS ARE EVENING UP.

New Orleans, November 7.—(P)—

Trading in the cotton market today was mostly of the evening up character. In addition, the government's ginners report and yield estimate due Wednesday, December contracts ranged from 21.12 to 21.03 and closed at 21.05 compared with 21.00 at the previous close. The general market closed quiet and steady at a net advance of 5 to 11 points.

The opening was steady, first trades showing gains of 4 to 6 points. Favorable Liverpool cables and map indications for unfavorable and colder weather induced trade buying and selling, but the market was also in evidence in the early trading.

Some belated liquidation about the middle of the morning carried prices down to 21.03 and March to 21.10, 10 to 14 points down from the high, but still 2 to 3 points above the previous close.

The market gradually improved during the afternoon and prices recovered to within 2 to 3 points from the high, but near the close there was additional liquidation and January contracts sold off from 21.06, but other active months did not reach their earlier lows. Prices rallied slightly at the end on covering and closed at a small net gain for the day.

License Georgia Pilots.

An effort to have a bill introduced into the next session of the legislature providing for the licensing of interstate airplane pilots is to be made in this state, Harry Mitchell, Atlanta branch manager of the department of commerce, said Monday on his return from a departmental conference in Washington. The matter will be taken up with state officials in the near future, Mr. Mitchell said. The department of commerce has charge of the licenses for interstate pilots, but pilots who confine their flying to the state borders at present are not required to have licenses, he pointed out.

Enactment of a law providing for the licensing of pilots within the state lines would prevent barnstorming tours with old "coasters," as interstate airplanes are called, and would mean that all pilots would have to pass inspection as being airworthy, Mr. Mitchell said. The necessity for

I Have Said in My Heart

BY IDAH M'GLONE CLIVON PESSIMISM

I have lately encountered a woman who must be very unhappy. No she did not say she was unhappy, but she must be, all the same. How do I know? Because, she did not believe in anything or anyone.

She said: "You have just been speaking of progressive thought in the clubs, and you have just been speaking of the influence of the club women in the world's progress. I believe it is a mistaken idea."

The woman who was talking seemed to think she had explained her state of mind when she remarked, with a heavy sigh, "I am such a pessimist."

It was then I began to feel sorry for her. It was then that I wished that she could put tolerance, sympathy and understanding in the place of intolerance and suspicion. The Century dictionary, "the doctrine that this world is the worst possible." Of Schopenhauer, who was the worst pessimistic philosopher, our own Emerson said, "A Schopenhauer with logic and learning and wit, teaching pessimism—teaching that the world is the worst of all possible worlds, and inferring that sleep is better than waking, and death than sleep—all the talent in the world cannot save us from the heart of evil."

Although I have very little sympathy for the Pollyanna doctrine which preaches the acceptance of everything as right, yet I know that it is only by the contrasting of the bad with the good that we are able to appreciate the good and to get the right point of view on the immutable law of compensation.

It is time to be able to rise after you have been dealt a body blow and look you adversity straight in the face. It is glorious to know that you are fully awake awake to everything, the work that hardens as well as the joy that thrills.

The man or woman who wakes in the morning wishing that he might still sleep, is not living life at its fullest, for this world, when one is fully awake, is a glorious place, and everyone, in his deepest heart, knows it, either consciously or unconsciously. Consciously if he is happy and unconsciously if he only knows that he does not want to step out of it, whatever may be his ills.

I want to stand upright
And cool my eyes in the air.
To see how my back can bear
Burden—to try, to know,
To learn, to grow.

Memo: No one can do this believing that "This world is the worst possible," believing that we are not progressive.

DIET AND HEALTH

TREATMENT FOR COLDS.

In yesterday's paper I pointed out the importance of diet and other factors in keeping the mucous membranes resistant to disease. Today I want to take up the treatment of colds.

The preliminary symptoms of colds are usually dryness of the nose and dryness and soreness of the throat. Often a local treatment with a swab of water, which is not too cold, applied two or three times a day, will kill off the germs and abort a cold.

The following formulas are good: Eucalyptus oil, 30 drops; menthol, 10 grains; cod liver oil, 15 grains; petroleum, 4 ounces. One-fourth lozin and three-fourths glycerine is also a good formula. Gargle or spray with the glycerine, and if you can drink a liberal amount, too. A teaspoonful of baking soda and a teaspoonful of salt to the pint of water will make the gargle more effective. Follow this with the oil or glycerine.

This treatment can be continued during the cold if you do not succeed in aborting it. For the nasal treatment, use a swab of water, which is not too cold, applied two or three times a day, will kill off the germs and abort a cold.

If you massage around the outside of the nose, under the eyes, with the fingers or with the electric vibratory machine, that will bring the fresh blood to the parts and will send the stagnating blood away. A hot sweetening bath, if you go to bed afterward and do not get chilled, often helps in the beginning of a cold. A mild cathartic is also very useful during a cold, and have fresh air, brisk walk, and take some liquid.

If you do not succeed in aborting a cold, it will take a definite course. Like other infectious diseases, it is self-limited. Sooner or later the system manufactures a defense which overcomes it. One exception, however, is making one immune, predisposes one to another, so try to get yourself up to par as soon as possible. Unless you stop further centralization of power in Washington, the council began a three-day session during which a permanent organization is expected to be formed to consider other questions.

Build up your general health. Tomorrow—Answers to Mothers. Tomorrow—Send in stamped, addressed envelope with request for answers.

Big Bill's Battle On British Books Seen Boomerang

Chicago, November 7.—(P)—Mayor William Hale Thompson, J. Louis Coth and one of the other leaders in the fight on William McAndrew, suspended superintendent of schools, one of whom were the mayor's wife, are on pro-British or anti-American propaganda, were in Washington to fight fighting for flood control, but the mayor, they left behind behind merely alone.

Even as Coth was "vexing" the mayor in Washington with an assent of "whatever the mayor was going to do, he was certainly going to do it," the Chicago Daily Journal made a revelation it calculated in its news columns would split the two and leave even the mayor's wife in a quandary. The Chicago Daily Journal, a leading article entitled "Education and Holding Citizenship," in the issue of November 7, said that the Chicago School Board was described as the official publication of Coth and the other school board members before whom McAndrew was called for trial last week.

"A storm raged in the 'America First' camp today when contents of the publication became known," said the Journal. "Mayor Thompson's relations on the board of education hastened to repudiate responsibility for the article, it was reported."

Observers who surveyed the publication predicted, however, that Mayor Thompson's ax, now suspended over the head of McAndrew, may also fall upon the head of Coth. It was intimated that even Coth, self-styled Colonel House of the Thompson cabinet, will be lucky if he escapes McAndrew's wrath. The paper pointed out that the mayor's wife, who is an ardent supporter of the British, would become a laughing stock for national politicians, who are not likely to enter the school board in the organization of his board of education for which he attacks the library board and the University of Chicago.

"Advisers of the mayor admitted the article was shot through with statements obnoxious to their chief. It was a title aroused suspicion in the Thompson fortress. That suspicion was increased by the Schools Journal's own description of the author of the article, Norman Angell."
